Passengers On British Vessel Placed In Lifeboats

CREW FAILS TO CONTROL SHIP BLAZE

HONOLULU, March 13.—(UP)—Fire aboard the British motorship Silverlarch, kept in check for several hours, got out of control, forcing the Silverlarch to transfer its eight passengers to lifeboats in the open sea, the vessel's master reported at 11:50 a. m., P.S.T., today in a message intercepted by Globe wireless.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—(UP)—Fire aboard the British motorship Silverlarch, kept in check for several hours, got out of control, forcing the Silverlarch to transfer its eight passengers to lifeboats in the open sea, the vessel's master reported at 11:50 a. m., P.S.T., today in a message intercepted by Globe wireless.

All the passengers are Americans. Three are women.

Cruiser On Way

The message, sent by the Silverlarch's master, Capt. F. H. Henderson, was from a position between 430 and 500 miles north-east of Honolulu. It was addressed to the U. S. S. Louisville rushing to the rescue and expected to reach the blazing ship in a matter of hours.

The message read: "Position 36.45 north and 152.10 west. Fire creeping again. "Have stopped boat. "Am transferring passengers to lifeboats."

A moment later the Silverlarch added: "Will stand by until you arrive."

It was the fourth time the fire aboard the motorship had gotten out of control.

Three times previously the vessel's crew of 45 had been able to fight the flames until they were "in check."

The Silverlarch, on a world cruise, was three-quarters of the way from San Pedro to Honolulu when the fire broke out.

The passengers aboard the Silverlarch included J. C. Lewis, C. N. Camp, H. Dobert, Dr. A. K. Wilson, G. Norris, K. Grenfell, M. W. Weller and H. A. Weller. The last three are women.

All were Americans. They boarded the motorship at New York for a world cruise via the Panama Canal, San Pedro, Honolulu and Calcutta.

Mountain Peak Sold to Club For 50 Cents

VIENNA, March 13.—(UP)—The Tyrol provincial government has sold the peak of Austria's highest mountain, Gross Glockner, 12,461 feet high, to the Austrian Alpine club, it was announced today. The club will pay 254 schillings (50 cents) for the 40 square feet of summit.

ASK OFFICE OF DEFENDER HERE

Creation of the office of public defender in Orange County will be asked of the county supervisors shortly by an Orange County Bar association committee, Charles D. Swanner and John Harvey.

The committee, appointed last night at a special meeting of the bar association, will carry to the supervisors a long-standing complaint of the legal profession concerning the requirement that legal defense shall be supplied free to impecunious defendants in criminal cases.

Find Duty Burdensome

The busy lawyers have found this duty burdensome, and the service frequently abused by defendants who have misrepresented their inability to employ counsel.

Under the present practice, when a defendant informs the court that he is without funds to retain counsel, the court appoints an attorney, who serves without fee. Such appointments are made in rotation from an alphabetical list of attorneys in the county.

Adequate Defense Assured

The bar association long has felt that Orange County's importance and the growing volume of its criminal business justify the services of a public defender to handle all cases of indigent defendants. It is pointed out that such a move would assure defendants of more conscientious defense in all cases, as the office would be administered with the same vigor and desire for a good record, that characterizes the administration of a prosecutor's office.

Present Matter Soon

If the question of economy stood in the way of a public defender's office, one speaker suggested, the county might eliminate one deputy in the district attorney's office, so that there would be little or no increase in county payroll.

The bar committee probably will not be ready to present the matter to the supervisors at next Monday's meeting of the board, but may appear at the meeting the following week, it was said.

Heavy rains that fell in all sections of the county last night boosted the seasonal total by an average of approximately one inch.

Starting late yesterday afternoon the downpour, in most sections of the county, continued through the night. This morning, however, the sun came up and dispelled lingering clouds. The weather prediction for the next 24 hours is: "Unsettled, showers tonight and clear tomorrow."

The heaviest rainfall, during the past 24 hours, was in the north end of the county, with Richfield receiving the heaviest precipitation of 1.62 inches for the period. The rainfall there brought the seasonal total up to 21.27 inches for the year to date. The lightest rainfall for the same period was in San Juan Capistrano where .35 of an inch fell bringing the storm total up to .83 of an inch and 22.08 for the year. Santa Ana's rain for the past 24 hours amounted to .64 of an inch to bring the storm total up to .83 of an inch for the storm and 20.33 for the year.

WEDDING PLANS DENIED BY OSA

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 13.—(UP)—Mrs. Osa Johnson said today a report that she would marry Arthur H. Walker, a Chicago artist, was "perfectly ridiculous."

"I'm not going to marry anybody," said the pretty widow of Explorer Martin Johnson, who was killed recently in a plane crash in California.

"He's just an admirer," she said. "I've only known the man for three days."

Mrs. Johnson here to lecture this afternoon and tonight before going to Detroit, was informed as she left civic auditorium that Walker had obtained a marriage license at Chicago.

"He sent me flowers and a map," Mrs. Johnson said. Attempts to learn what sort of a "map" had been presented to her were halted by Mrs. Johnson's manager, G. Howard Andrews, who advised her to answer no further questions.

Andrews carried Mrs. Johnson to a waiting automobile from the auditorium. Suffering from injuries received in the air crash that killed her husband, she addressed her audience from a wheel chair.

COURT PLAN OPPOSED BY COUNTY BAR

BY NEIL SHAW

Cementing its action with numerous emphatic declarations that any action on the issue before it must be without an iota of political tinge, the Orange County Bar association last night unanimously went on record as opposing "any legislation, the purpose of which is to increase the number of justices of the supreme court of the United States as now constituted."

The occasion was an especially called dinner meeting that convened at 6:30 p. m. yesterday at the Green Cat cafe, with President M. B. Wellington of the organization in the chair.

Get Quick Action

Prefaced by a wide variety of expressed viewpoints of most of the more than 30 members present, and discussed at considerable length from almost every angle, the final action of the body came in the form of a resolution. The resolution was drafted by a committee appointed on the floor, submitted as a unanimous consensus of that group in three minutes after the committee's selection, and unanimously adopted by the entire group.

The resolution, in full, is as follows:

SEEK TO SPEED COURT HEARING

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(UP)—Leaders of the congressional battle over supreme court reorganization renewed efforts today to speed the hearings of the senate judiciary committee and to enlist support for proposals supplementing President Roosevelt's program.

Sen. Wheeler Witness

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., prepared to open the opposition attack as a witness before the committee Monday. Sens. Key Pittman, D. Nev., and Charles O. Andrews, D. Fla., advanced plans to supplement or compromise Mr. Roosevelt's plan.

Pittman announced he would seek to amend the president's plan to make a 15-member supreme court mandatory and permanent. "Such a plan," he said, "would inject new blood into the court, relieve the present psychological situation due to long differences of opinion among the justices and provide enough justices to read all of the applications submitted to the court."

Proposal Offered

Andrews, still uncommitted on the court plan, advanced an omnibus proposal for a constitutional amendment either supplementary to the Roosevelt proposals or as a compromise.

He proposed to enlarge the court to 11 members, to require a two-thirds vote to invalidate acts of congress, to permit voluntary retirement of justices at 70 and compulsory at 75.

The task of selecting members for the commission has been before the various members of the council for the last month and it was not until late this morning that final acceptance was received by Plummer Bruns.

All the members who have been selected are prominent in Santa Ana business and social life. Hardy is assistant manager of the Orange County Auto club. Elmer Heidt has been manager of the Auto Club of Southern California branch in Santa Ana for approximately 15 years.

DRIVE STARTED BY CIO HEADS

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Heads of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization, recognized as bargaining agent for 2500 workers after a strike in the Douglas airplane plant, announced today a campaign to attempt unionizing of 20,000 workers in the Southern California rubber, steel and cotton garment industries.

REBEL TROOPS RENEW ATTACK

MADRID, March 13.—(UP)—The Spanish rebels, driving against Madrid through the Guadalajara sector to the east, resumed a heavy offensive today after having been halted temporarily by a loyalist counter attack.

Today's thrust, backed by two tank units, was aimed at Armuña, on the Tajuna river 10 miles southeast of Guadalajara and approximately in the center of the loyalist main line of defense.

Artillery was active on both sides and squadrons of rebel cavalry joined in the battle. Loyalist headquarters at Chinchón, on the Madrid-Valencia highway, reported to the general staff at noon: "We have repulsed several rebel attacks along our entire line. The insurgent cavalry have returned to their base after suffering heavy losses."

Headquarters of the loyalist air force at Valencia issued a communique which said: "An Italian division on the Guadalajara front was terribly punished by the loyalist aviation and fled in disorder after suffering enormous casualties."

Battle Due On Donihue Office Bill

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 13.—(UP)—Charging Assemblyman Leon M. Donihue, Oakland, with fostering a return to the "vicious spoils system," State Senator Roy J. Nielsen, Sacramento, said today he will lead a fight against a bill to abolish civil service in upper bracket state jobs if and when the measure reaches the senate.

Donihue announced yesterday he intends to introduce a bill which would remove all state positions paying salaries in excess of $201 a month from civil service rating.

Donihue said civil service encourages lethargy and cited the state personnel board's long-delayed dismissal of Joseph P. Kelley, former head of the Oakland audit blind school, as a "good example of the system's failure."

Approval of such a measure would make approximately 3000 job appointments available to future administrators as patronage plums.

Termining the proposal "the craziest thing I ever heard of," Nielsen said: "You might as well abolish civil service entirely. Mr. Donihue is endangering the whole basis of a splendid system."

LEAGUE GIVEN WAR PROTESTS

GENEVA, March 13.—(UP)—Loyalist Spain charged before the League of Nations today that Germany and Italy were planning a joint naval attack on Valencia and Barcelona "under pretext of guarding the coast."

Two more Italian army divisions were being sent shortly to Spain to participate in the capture of Madrid, Spain charged, at the same time the naval squadrons attacked the Mediterranean seaports.

The charges, contained in a telegram from Julio Alvarez del Vayo, Spanish foreign minister, were published by the league. Del Vayo's telegram, based on the statements of Italian officers and enlisted men captured on the Guadalajara front, northeast of Madrid, alleged that four regular divisions of the Italian army were participating in the new offensive on Madrid.

"Two more Italian divisions are to come," Del Vayo telegraphed. "Headquarters plans to take Madrid while the Italian and German squadrons, under the pretext of guarding the coast, attack Barcelona and Valencia."

"We will support these appeals but will concentrate on 20,000 workers here in rubber, steel and cotton garments," he said.

Meantime, the prosecution of nearly 350 former sit-down strikers at the Douglas plant proceeded despite a peaceful settlement of the strike. Deputy District Attorney Eugene Black said he would ask the county grand jury to vote a new trespass indictment citing the strikers by name instead of as "John Does."

MURPHY NAMES STRIKE GROUP

DETROIT, March 13.—(UP)—Gov. Frank Murphy today appointed a committee of 20 prominent Detroiters to study means of settling sit-down strikes as Circuit Judge Allen Campbell reserved decision on an injunction petition seeking the removal of 8000 strikers from Chrysler corporation plants.

Major Frank Couzens, son of the late senator, was included in the governor's committee of business, labor and social leaders appointed to inquire into current strikes that have closed 12 automotive plants in the metropolitan area and left an estimated 75,000 workers idle.

While the governor formulated plans for a meeting of this committee next Wednesday, Judge Campbell announced his decision on the Chrysler injunction would be disclosed Monday.

ELOPER JAILED

COOLIDGE, Ariz., March 13.—(UP)—Vernon Miller, 25 years old and married, was held in jail today awaiting trial on child-stealing charges today growing out of his alleged elopement with a 13-year-old girl pupil of the school where he is janitor.

TAKE 15 BODIES FROM COAL MINE

LOGAN, W. Va., March 13.—(UP)—Endangered by falling slate, gas-masked rescuers crawled at a snail's pace through the gas-filled tunnels of Jacobeth coal mine today in search of the bodies of three more victims of the explosion that killed 18 miners.

While officials of the Hutchinson Coal company and the state mine department speculated that a spark from an electrically-powered mine car had set off accumulated black-damp gas, relatives of the victims planned a mass funeral for Sunday.

Nine bodies had been brought to the surface. Six more had been found and were being brought out through the 700-foot slope two at a time. R. P. Rinehart, chief of the state bureau of mines, said that he believed it would be days before the last body is recovered.

INVESTIGATE FIRE

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(UP)—Navy officials today launched an investigation to determine the extent of damage and cause of a fire which swept a section of the Washington navy yard last night. Twelve fire companies and a fire tug worked for two hours before they checked the blaze in two buildings.

F. D. R. SIGNS TAX EXTENSION BILL

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 13.—(UP)—President Roosevelt signed a joint congressional resolution today granting an indefinite extension of time for payment of the federal "windfall" tax.

The levy was designed by the government in 1936 to recapture AAA processing tax money after the agricultural adjustment act had been declared unconstitutional by the U. S. supreme court.

The tax affects processors who passed the federal excise tax on to consumers instead of paying it themselves. Most of the money was impounded after the high tribunal's decision. The time extension will be at the discretion of the commissioner of internal revenue, except for taxpayers who now are abroad. For them, the resolution provided that "no such extensions shall be made beyond June 15, 1937."

S. A. RESIDENTS TO ATTEND CORONATION OF KING GEORGE

Attending the coronation of King George VI as a guest of an English lord will be the pleasant and memorable experience of Attorney and Mrs. C. B. Diehl, of 2309 Bonnie Brae Santa Ana, who plan to sail March 20 on the Furness line S. S. Pacific Reliance for London by way of the Panama Canal.

Mrs. Diehl's nephew, Lord Hyndley, of London, already has procured their seats at the colorful coronation ceremony, which is scheduled May 11.

The Diehls will be guests of the peer, and also of Mrs. Diehl's sister, Mrs. Westoll, of Coniscliffe Hall, Durham, in the north of England.

Through Lord Hyndley's influence, Judge Diehl expects to secure opportunity to observe the English courts and parliament, to which he is looking forward with keen interest. He also will stop at Lord Hyndley's shooting lodge on his Northumberland estates and fishing.

The Diehls expect to tour Scotland and the continent, particularly Germany, while abroad. They will return home through Canada, stopping at Montreal for a visit.

AMERICAN WOUNDED IN SPAIN IMPROVED

VALENCIA, March 13.—(UP)—Robert Merriman of Nevada, wounded while fighting with the loyalist army, was reported recovering today.

Information from Murcia, where he is in a hospital with wounds in his right shoulder caused by high explosive shell fragments, said he would be able to return to the front shortly.

Merriman was wounded February 27. He was commander of the Abraham Lincoln battalion of the international brigade.

Mrs. Merriman was due to arrive in Valencia today from Moscow.

Phil Barr, American artist wounded in the same engagement, is now en route to the United States.

ASSURANCES GIVEN U. S. ON ARTICLES

BERLIN, March 13.—(UP)—Germany has given assurances that no insult was intended to the American nation in German press comments on the suggestion of Mayor Fiorenzo H. La Guardia of New York that Adolf Hitler be portrayed in a "chamber of horrors" at New York's world fair, a most reliable private informant said today.

The assurance was given by Baron Constantin Von Neurath, foreign minister at the conference yesterday at which American Ambassador William E. Dodd protested vigorously against insults leveled at the United States and Americans generally, the informant said.

Neurath was said to have told Dodd, however, that La Guardia's words might have been expected to awaken general resentment in Germany.

WEST REPORTS TWO OCEAN BILLS FAVORED

Returning yesterday from the senate oil committee hearing of Huntington Beach tideland bills, County Supervisor N. E. West, of Laguna Beach, said that both the Swing and the Olson bills, relating to proposals for development of the Huntington Beach pool, had been reported out of committee without recommendation.

The assembly oil hearing is set for March 26, and West also will appear before that hearing, he said. The Olson bill, which would divide the tideland field into nine sections, to be leased separately, at a minimum royalty of 30 per cent to the state, provides that not more than one lease shall be granted to one oil company. Where any leasing company has control of more than 6 per cent of stock of another company, such other company would not be eligible to lease under the Olson bill.

The Swing bill would divide the field into sections of certain standard acreage, and provides a minimum royalty of 15 per cent to the state.

Neither bill provides a royalty for the county or city, which the object of West's appearance before the hearing, T. B. Talbert, of Huntington Beach, also appeared. The city and county seek a royalty of not less than 8 per cent for each. West said there was good prospect of procuring such an amendment to the bills on the floor of the senate. A number of prominent senators have expressed their approval, he said.

In his argument for a city and county royalty, at the senate hearing, West stressed three points: (1) That a probable 40 per cent royalty to the state from a tideland lease, would cost the city and county tax revenues on 30 per cent production from the pool, the state royalty now being 10 per cent; (2) that the lack of royalties to other cities and counties where tideland drilling is in progress, no relation to the local situation because the other pools pay a state royalty of not more than 5 per cent; (3) that large sums in building and maintaining roads and bridges and in maintaining police, fire and sanitary protection in the Huntington Beach region.

The city and county, he therefore points out, are entitled to a royalty as compensation for loss of taxes and for investments in governmental service there.

AMELIA CHECKS
PLANE'S RADIO

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Calif., March 13.—(UP)—Amelia Earhart, Putnam and her navigator, Capt. Fred Goetz, made an hour's test flight over the ocean today for a final check on their plane's radio apparatus before the start of Miss Earhart's 27,000 mile round the world flight tomorrow.

A United Airlines twin motorized Boeing plane preceded Miss Earhart's plane into the air and accompanied it out over the Golden Gate. It was filled with newspaper cameramen and radio technicians who were to keep in constant touch with Miss Earhart and Captain Manning in testing out radio equipment.

With Miss Earhart and Captain Manning was Paul Mantz, technical adviser of the flight, who, with George Putnam, the woman flier's publisher-husband, made final checks on the plane early this morning.

Putnam, who has been anxiously watching over all developments prior to the departure around the globe, said that the flight today was merely routine in nature.

"When weather conditions are satisfactory, the flight will get off," he said. "We will 'pull no sneak' and leave the airport without giving anyone notice."

Miss Earhart appeared anxious to get away today prior to the test flight but denied that she was "thrilled."

"Please don't say that I am thrilled," she said. "Excited, eager, yes. But that thrill business is not in my makeup."

TRAGIC CANYON DEATH INQUEST TO BE MONDAY

Inquest into the deaths of five persons in a terrific crash between an automobile and truck in Santa Ana canyon, Thursday evening, will be conducted at Brown and Wagner Funeral chapel Monday morning at 10 o'clock, Coroner Earl Abbey announced today.

The dead, all burned when a gasoline tank on the truck exploded and set fire to both vehicles, are: Glenn Rogers, 25, Fullerton, truck driver; Mr. and Mrs. George Strong, 48 and 48 years old, respectively; Mr. and Mrs. George Adelsberger, Benwood, W. Va., about 50, reported as guests of the Strong's.

It was reported that the automobile driver was attempting to pass a slow-moving oil tanker when the crash came. Apparently the driver of the car became panicked just before the crash.

At an inquest this morning in Backs, Terry and Campbell Funeral chapel, Anaheim, a coroner's jury heard that the accident which caused the death of David W. Du Vall, 45, Whittier, Thursday afternoon at an oil derrick near Yorba Linda, was the result of "carelessness by the party or parties in charge of the work or faulty machinery."

An idling engine apparently meshed gears and whipped a sand line cable against Du Vall, breaking his neck, several ribs and an arm.

TRUST ESTATE PLEA FILED IN LOCAL COURTS

Filing an answer and cross-complaint to the bank's suit against them, Arthur O. Ackerman and his wife, Bertha Brown Ackerman, of Placentia, today demanded removal of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of Fullerton as trustee of an estate left by the late Mary A. Tombs, mother of Mrs. Ackerman. The cross-complaint charged the bank with mismanagement of the property, and with actions aimed at benefitting the bank rather than the estate.

The bank sued the Ackermans and other heirs some months ago, complaining that the Ackermans, who occupied and operated a Placentia orange grove held in trust with the bank, had removed orange trees without authority, and otherwise had exceeded their authority in dealing with the property. The bank also claimed that the Ackermans kept vicious dogs on the place, so that the bank's representatives could not inspect it.

Deny Dogs Vicious

In their answer and cross-complaint, filed today through Attorney B. Z. McKinney, of West & McKinney, the Ackermans deny that their dogs are vicious, or that the bank has been prevented from inspecting the property, or has even asked to inspect it.

They claim that navel orange trees were replaced with Valencia trees, for the benefit and improvement of the ranch. The bank, they point out, has permitted them to manage the ranch for several years.

$6000 Loss Claimed

The bank's usual permit them to sell the orange crop through the Villa Park Orchards association, where they claim they could get higher returns than through the Placentia Orange Growers association, where the fruit has been marketed, was attacked by the Ackermans as a selfish stand taken by the bank, because of an interlocking directorate, two of the bank's directors being also directors of the Placentia Orange Growers association.

The ranch has lost $6000 in crop returns through this policy of the bank's, it was charged. It further was alleged that the bank had refused to show statements of sales and prices to the heirs.

Declaring that officials of the bank have shown bitter animosity toward beneficiaries of the trust, the Ackermans ask that the bank be removed as trustee, and a more friendly trustee substituted.

STORM SIGNALS ON COAST TAKEN DOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—(UP)—Storm signals on the California and Oregon coast were hauled down today as a rain and windstorm that caused property damage and minor distress to ships sea moved inland over the Sierra Nevadas to Utah and Nevada.

U. S. weather bureau forecasters said rains would continue in California and Southern California, and in the mountain areas although in modified form. Fair weather for the bay region area was in prospect.

The rains and heavy seas belabored the old steamer, City of Los Angeles, on its way to San Pedro to be scrapped but it pulled through without damage.

It was reported at Astoria, Ore., that the coast guard had dispatched a cutter to a point 30 miles off the Columbia river bar to carry medical aid to members of a trawler sunk in a collision with the troller Wanderer. The Wanderer took off the members of the other vessel, coast guardmen said.

Soft pastel tints of springtime place cards, glowing tapers and pottery table service combined to present a colorful and charming decorative effect. Corsage bouquets at each place were of violets, sweet peas and pansies.

A friendly social hour followed the dinner, which was shared by teachers including the Misses Isabel Lindsay, Maurie Hamill, Doris Schneck, Hubertene Kueneman, Anna Ekdahl and Mesdames John Green and Frances Hart; with officers and grade mothers including Mesdames E. D. Froese, Orson Hunter, John J. Vernon, Allison Honer, H. J. Howard, John Ball, Stanley Reinhaus, Otto Schroeder, Rolla Hays Jr., R. D. Smiley, C. F. The refreshment interval late in the evening brought many delightful features, including the awarding of prizes to winners in bridge. Dessert was served at linen-spread tables centered with graceful white and delicate white blossoms. The lovely centerpieces were presented to guests who held high honors at each of seven tables of cards.

Symbol of love and romance, a white swan boat bearing shower gifts for the honoree was placed on a lace-spread table. Mounted on a blue lake circled with lily pads, the shimmering white swan perched atop the shower packages was a miniature bride wearing silver lace, and bridegroom in formal black and white. Attired in blue and white with paddle in hand, the captain of this interesting little crew bore a message to a group.

COURT PLAN IS OPPOSED HERE

"Whereas, a proposal is before the congress of the United States to enact a law empowering the president to appoint an additional justice of the supreme court of the United States for every justice over the age of 70 years, which if now enacted into law would empower the president to appoint six additional justices; and

"Whereas, there is no necessary relation between the age of 70 years and the efficiency of the supreme court of the United States, as the history of that court shows; and, "Whereas, the work of the supreme court of the United States is up to date and the court has demonstrated that nine justices are adequate to maintain the efficiency of the court and there is no justification for increasing the number of the members of the court; and,

Opposed to Measure

"Whereas, the Constitution of the United States provides as the fundamental feature of its plan of governmental organization for three separate co-ordinate departments, namely, the legislative, the executive, and the judicial; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Orange County Bar association is opposed to any legislation, the purpose of which is to increase the number of the justices of the supreme court of the United States as now constituted; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to each senator from the state of California, and to the representative in congress from this district and to the board of governors of the State Bar association."

The committee that drafted the resolution was characterized by the fact that it was composed of two Democrats, George Holden, Anaheim city attorney, and R. C. Mize, of Santa Ana, and one Republican, Stanley Reinhaus, of this city. The latter was chairman and presented the measure.

Face First Problem

Colonel Wellington presented the question, saying the matter was brought before the local association as the result of action of the American Bar association and the board of governors of the state bar. He pointed out that the first problem was to decide if the county association desired to take action.

L. A. West, Republican law partner of B. Z. McKinney, chairman of the Democratic Central committee, who was not present, made the motion that the association take action.

In brief, remarks were: "If there is any group in the United States which should be interested, I believe that the attorneys compose that group, and I feel that we should take action," declared City Attorney Lew Blodgett of Santa Ana. Holden said he felt that action should be taken on the plebiscite plan, or the association as individuals and not as a body.

Reinhaus, one of the strongest proponents of the move to take action, declared sentiment must be expressed in order to preserve the integrity of the courts, and to the end "that justice might be more fairly administered."

Tucker Cites Angle

James B. Tucker declared the organization had an obligation in the matter, that the public awaited a decision of the association. A. W. Rutan said he believed that a newspaper article, describing opinions of opponents "was more of a political nature than what we are having and will have tonight." Mize said that he would vote conscientiously in favor of action on the matter, and that he felt all Republicans present would do likewise.

Thomas L. McFadden, Judge Ben Tarver and L. A. West added their remarks to the weight in favor of a move one way or the other on the issue at stake.

Colonel Wellington then put the matter to a vote. The group voted unanimously to take action. The next question was the decision as to what type of action. In addition to those who previously had spoken, Roy Shaffer, Franklin G. West, A. M. Drumm, John A. Harvey and others voiced their opinions. It was the substitute motion of McFadden to the effect that the association oppose any legislation that would tamper with the supreme court, and an appropriate committee be appointed to draft a resolution, that was carried. A motion had been made that the resolution as adopted by the state board of governors of the bar, be accepted and endorsed by the local group.

Lists Objections

It was brought out, however, that the state resolution as set up, might give the impression to the public that action of the association here was being taken on a political basis, and for political reasons.

Thus it was that when the meeting adjourned, the air was prevalent that the association had transcended all political tastes and leanings, and had expressed its deepest convictions as jurists and barristers.

The Democrat membership, however, had largely absented itself from the meeting, following a public protest by five of its leaders, that the action was planned as a political move, and pointing out that only 16 of the 50 members of the bar are Democrats. Only 3 of the 16, Holden, Mize and Tarver, were present.

NEW TRAFFIC BOARD CHOSEN

and is a past exalted ruler of the Santa Ana lodge of Elks. Henderson has been superintendent of Santa Ana city schools for approximately five years and formerly was principal of the high school at Orange. He has made a study of traffic conditions for years and is conversant with the problems in all parts of the country, it is said.

O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, also is a past president of the Santa Ana Rotary club. McFarland was the last man to agree to serve on the commission and then only after he had taken the matter up with his church board.

Charles Swanner is one of the more prominent attorneys in Santa Ana. He formerly was city attorney.

Held Conferences

The ordinance was adopted as originally drafted. The draft was made after several conferences between Councilman Ernest Layton, Elmer Heidt, Clyde Walker, Capt. Henry Meenan, Chief Floyd Howard, Allen Hershey, City Attorney Lew Blodgett and Plummer Bruns.

The traffic ordinance which goes into effect Tuesday, provides for the appointment of the commission, one member to be from the city council, appointed by the mayor, and the other six members to be appointed by the council as a whole, for a term of three years, with terms of two of the commissioners to expire on each January 1. The councilman member of the commission would serve at the pleasure of the council, during his incumbency. Any commissioner can be removed by vote of council.

To Give Reports

Section 2 of the ordinance provides that the commissioners investigate any and all matters relative to or pertaining to traffic safety measures, and make recommendations which may come to their notice. They will make recommendations to council and upon request of council, report concerning any traffic safety questions presented or referred to them. The commission must appoint a chairman and secretary and keep a complete record of all meetings—meetings to be held once a month.

To Report Violations

With recommendations from the commission, the council is authorized to appoint the traffic safety patrolmen who must observe and report to the commission, any and all violations of the provisions of the vehicle code of the state of California and ordinances of the city of Santa Ana, enacted pursuant and supplementary thereof, relative or appertaining to violation affecting traffic safety.

The "vigilante" appointments must be subject to approval by the police chief and will be appointed—for one year only—must go through a 30-day probationary period before final approval. They are authorized to arrest and detain any and all persons they may observe violating the traffic laws "when it will be a further violation of the provisions of the traffic laws if such persons so detained is permitted to proceed unrestrained." The commissioners and patrolmen must take an oath of office, just as all police officials do. The council or commission shall receive no applications for appointments as such patrolmen, but the commission shall from time to time, invite any person over the age of 21 years, to accept such appointment.

Monthly Reports Required

Monthly reports to council are required of the commission, showing recommendations for traffic safety and the total number of traffic safety violations which have come to their notice which the patrolmen and upon which they have taken action.

Section 6 makes it imperative that the commission prepare or cause to be prepared, rules and regulations governing their own conduct and governing the conduct of the patrolmen and requires copies of the rules and regulations be given each patrolman.

Menace To Safety

"Such rules and regulations for the traffic safety patrolman," the section provides, "shall include a provision that no information concerning the activities or personnel of the traffic safety patrol shall be given out or released by any member of such patrol but that all such information, if any, shall be released or given out by the traffic safety commission as such, to the effect that the commission shall operate as a unit and not as individual members thereof." The ordinance was made out as an emergency passage but that clause will not be taken advantage of. The emergency exists, the ordinance states, "in that traffic fatalities and accidents have become a menace to the public health and safety."

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

Sometimes you are threatened by the bleakness of pessimism and despair. You are tempted to cast aside ideals, to give in to restraint, and to give in to vindictiveness and hatred. Then you recognize how degraded is a being which would destroy itself.

Although you sometimes feel that your lot is cruel and unjust, remember that the one who loves life is hoping and praying that you may become fit for the reunion in Paradise, which will make eternal life sweet to you.

Determine to do your best to make life wholesome and fine for others. Reach out for God, and He will comfort, strengthen and sustain you.

Mystery Monster?

Well, Whozit?

What's the "Whozit" the A. B. Stanleys of Route 4, Box 546, Santa Ana, found under a flower pot at their residence yesterday? Some say it's a lizard—hila monsin to a snake—first cousin to a snake.

But the Stanleys really want to know. A. B. Boggs, of Bakersfield, visitor at the Stanley place, Harbor boulevard a mile south of First street, brought the strange creature into the Register office last night, wanting to know what "Whozit" "Are you a bugologist?" he inquired, and we had to make an honest confession, "As far as we're concerned, that is, that thing is still a 'Whozit,' we said.

The "Whozit" has a head like a rattlesnake, legs like a lizard and spots like a leopard. Made "Whozit" is a Snailizard. Boggs wants to know.

Unitarian Pastor Speaks Tomorrow

Continuing the discussion opened last Sunday morning by Everett Dean Martin, based on the thesis of his book "The Mystery of Religion," the Rev. Julia A. Budong, pastor of the Unitarian church, tomorrow will speak on the subject, "The Mystery of Sinful Man and Redeeming Lord."

"To understand religion better is to gain a new and deeper knowledge of oneself," Dr. Martin said last Sunday. "Religion, moreover, is not, primarily, a 'knowledge' affair." What sort of affair it is, and what it shows us about ourselves and our inner and unconscious needs, will be the subject of the discussion on the psychology of sin and redemption which will be the theme tomorrow.

The pulpit-study of Dr. Martin's book in the field of social psychology of religion, which is filling the pre-Easter sermon series this month, forms part of what could be termed an "Everett Dean Martin Month." His own appearance in the pulpit last Sunday inaugurated the morning services for the spring quarter and his book "The Meaning of a Liberal Education" will be the volume reviewed by the minister on Wednesday afternoon, March 17.

ALLEN, BENNY MEET FACE TO FACE; MARY TO SING FOR KENNY

"The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here—"

By HOMER CANFIELD

HAVING BUILT UP TO WHAT WE HOPE ISN'T an awful letdown, the much anticipated meeting between Jack Benny and Fred Allen takes place Sunday evening.

The last time these two (actually very good friends) paired their keen-edged wits on the program was several seasons ago when Allen was here moving-making. T. H. was a member of the comedy history, with the nationalized Yankee coming off with a little more than his share of the laughs. It was the funniest broadcast your correspondent has ever heard.

But what will happen to-morrow night? Will the boys kiss and make up? You can almost be sure of one thing, however, the two will bury the fiddle business, having drained the subject dry.

Mary, turned a little slug-nutty by the occasion, will attempt to substitute for Kenny Baker, who was called to Hollywood for a picture engagement. Mary will sing on a very nice voice. I've been told the popular tune, "You Do the Darndest Things."

Sam (Schlepperman) Hearn will again be heard along with Abe (You'll get your ears plectated) Lyman's band. (KFI, 8:30)

Saturday Symphony
OUTSTANDING TONIGHT IS the two-hour Chicago Symphony concert, over Mutual. Dr. Frederick Stock will conduct, with Henry Weber, concert maestro for the Mutual outlet, WGN, in Chicago, being heard as commentator.

The program is as follows:
The Secret of Success, Overture.
Symphony No. 10, C Major Schubert
Lyrle Suite, Opus 51—Grieg
Siegfried: Voices of the Forest—Wagner
Capriccio Italian, Opus 45—Tchakovsky

Burlesque
STOOPNAGLE AND BUDD TURN their spotlight of satire on Fibber McGee and Molly tomorrow afternoon. The two comedians will present their version of the popular Monday night half-hour.

The program will take the role of the famous fabricating Fibber and Molly will be played by Joan Banks and Budd in person will be the W. C. Fields-voiced stooge. (KECA, 10:30)

Program Notes
A CHOICE BIT OF UNUSUAL scheduling brings the high spots from the current Schubert revue, "The Show Is On," to the air Sunday afternoon. In half-hour time, the stars of the piece, Beatrice Lillie, Bert Lahr, Reginald Gardiner and Mitzie Mayfair, all favorites of the musical comedy stage and fairly well known to dialers, will be heard. (KECA, 5)

Another choice spot to stop your dial Sunday is John Nesbitt's Passing Parade. His stories, somewhat akin to Edwin C. Hill's Human Side of the News, are usually fantastic, exciting and beautifully told in a crisp, clean-cut delivery.

His main tale tomorrow night will tell of the last three snakes in Ireland. (KFI, 9)

Eddie Cantor will continue his "Hour of Hollywood" by taking Jimmy Wallington's folks through Olvera street, Marlene Dietrich's home and the film studios. Lupe Velez is scheduled to join the party. (KNX, 8)

Rhythmic Rhythm moves up a quarter-hour (KECA, 6), which puts Walter Winchell in at 6:30, KECA.

Modern Poets

BY BEULAH MAY

AVON is the name of a new poetry magazine devoted to humor, humor at its best, whimsy and mischief, all that brings joy to life. Welcome, Laughing Muse!

Production, Ltd.
Regeneration frequently occurs in many species. Supplying subject matter for innumerable theses. I marvel at the miracle Which gives new life, new hope, Although I bitterly resent The limits of its scope! For instant, take the lovely crab And amputate its claws! It doesn't need a dressing of adhesive tape and gauze But starts to grow another pair Which later proves to be A very perfect replica And serves efficiently. The starfish too, is undisturbed By ruthless vivisection. Each fragment grows into a whole Of absolute perfection. So flawless in its character It looks just like its brother:— But I who gave you all my heart Will never grow another!

Sylvia Gardner Lufburrow.
The Biology Lecture
"The starfish is echinodermatous. And has a skeleton of plates and spines Whose composition is calcareous!"

But while the class was taking down these lines I saw a strip of sand wet by the sea. With starfish left upon it by the tide. I listened to the childish shouts of glee As sun-browned youngsters, running far and wide In search of treasure, at this new find gazed. And, laughing dropped the starfish To take back to the towers they had raised Of seaweed, pebbles, shells of clams and snails.

"You called on me? I did not understand. For I was building castles in the sand."

CALLING ALL DOGS!

By Albert Payson Terhune

Raw Meat Won't Make Raw Temper

One of the thousand silly traditions about our canine friends is that the feeding of raw meat makes a dog savage or vicious. It does nothing of the kind. At least, so my lifelong study of dogs has taught me. This is backed by opinions of men who know more about dogs than do I. Never have I been able to find the slightest cause and effect between a raw meat diet and a raw-tempered dog. Often raw meat is one of the most beneficial items on the canine bill of fare, as well as the most appetizing. (If a meatless diet led to meek gentleness of disposition, then Bernard Shaw and Bernard MacPadden would be two of the most sheep-like and spiritless men alive. Which, heaven knows, they are not.) To feed a dog heavily on raw meat in the heat of summer is a mistake. To rule out green vegetables and milk and stale bread from his rations, at any time of year, is a greater blunder. All these foods, especially meat, form needful ingredients of his dinner dish. If your dog becomes snappish or ugly-tempered, don't blame the meat you have been feeding him. Meat and canine disposition have no connection with each other.

poetic puzzles

by ALLEN M. DAPURT

Each verse below conceals the name of an automobile with the letters in proper consecutive order. Answers will be found on the Classified Page.

XLVIII

For days and weeks I've longed to be
Recipient of your smiles;
Most willingly I want to be
The victim of your wiles.

My heart has fallen with a thud.
Songs of love I sing;
Where is your heart, where are your ears,

You do not hear a thing.

You do not have wealth like Du Font,
I accept no name of greed;
For don't you see, 'tis only you
Are all the wealth I need.

Alas! all entreaties are in vain,
You do not hear my plea;
What can I do, what shall I say,
To make you love poor me?

Many persons believe that barbed wire was more important than railroads in the development of the west. It sounded the death knell of longhorn cattle, and made possible the introduction of pure-bred stock. It changed the vast prairies into an empire of homesteads.

Other plane models will be displayed by Bill Fletcher next week. The High 8C and D general science class, accompanied by Mr. Hicks, instructor, took an all-day trip to Griffith park, Thursday, March 11, to visit the planetarium and study the solar system. Robert Brigante was in charge of transportation.

The class has planned to go to Caltech college to see the grinding and polishing of the 200-inch telescope lens in the near future.

Fifteen girls from the high nine foods classes, directed by Miss Sitz, have completed the unit on serving a three-course dinner. The following girls are recommended as waitresses: Lillian Breaux, Hortencia Flores, Mary Catherine Friend, Mamie Iley, Irene Inman, Audrey Johnson, Phyllis Kinney, Mary Alice Laughlin, Jean Penington, Genevieve Reed, Josephine Reuter, Betty Smeykal and Patricia Swarthout.

The H8 G general science class is studying chemistry. For three weeks they have been studying astronomy.

They are studying from the book, "A Tour Through the World of Science," by Skilling. Later the class expects to do some experimenting with chemicals as the room in which they study is equipped with the necessary devices.

ASHMORE RITES HELD AT ABBEY

Melrose Abbey was packed this afternoon as Santa Anans paid their last tribute to Dr. William Ashmore, famous Chinese missionary and resident of Santa Ana, who was electrocuted by an electric chair in his home last Thursday.

Services were held at the Abbey at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Harry Evan Owens, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Dr. Ashmore was a member, officiating. Reverend Mr. Owens was assisted by the Rev. Otto Russell, retired pastor of the same church and Dr. A. W. Rider.

During the services Mrs. John Williams played organ selections and sang several vocal numbers. Following services in the Abbey chapel the body was entombed there.

Pallbearers for the service included F. W. Looze, W. J. Lockett, H. E. Martin, E. K. Wyman, Will Crawford and J. W. Taylor.

Dr. Ashmore had been in "Who's Who" for almost half a century as a famous Chinese missionary for the Baptist church. He had made his home here for many years following his retirement from the ministry.

His death was the second tragedy to strike the Ashmore family within the past three years. Three years ago, Dr. Frank Ashmore, well-known Santa Ana doctor, was killed when a defective carbonated water bottle exploded when he was preparing some soft drinks for neighborhood children.

WORKERS OFFERED INCREASE IN WAGES

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—The Metropolitan Water district, bringing to a head its three weeks' negotiations with workers at the San Jacinto tunnel, today offered wage increases aggregating approximately $1,500,000 yearly, covering 8000 employees, it was announced at the district's headquarters here.

Under the terms of the offer the workers have until Monday morning to accept or reject the district's proposals. It was announced by officials of the C.I.O. organization at Banning that a vote would be taken tomorrow and that the polls there would close at 8 p. m.

Original demands of the employees for a straight 20 per cent wage increase, were later changed to $1 per day and then to 80 cents per day.

The water district proposal, it was stated, offers $1 per day wage increase to underground workers, 50 cents per day to surface workers, with a $5 per day minimum wage, and $15 per month to salaried employees.

REVEAL INCREASE IN U. S. DRINKING

EVANSTON, Ill., March 13.(UP)—Salvation Army executives in 120 cities and 41 states reported in a poll conducted by the Woman's Christian Temperance union that drunkenness is increasing "by leaps and bounds," the union announced today.

The poll was based on comparative drunkenness before and after repeal.

"Almost without exception," the W. C. T. U. announced, "the testimony of Salvation Army executives affirms that drunkenness is increasing not only in cities and states which have returned to the licensed saloon system, but in most centers where so-called state control programs are in effect."

All but two of the 118 cities for which prohibition and post-repeal comparisons were made were reported as experiencing increases in drunkenness.

P.-T. A. Board Meets To Plan Installation

ORANGE, March 13.—The Maple Street P.-T. A. board met yesterday afternoon at the school to make plans for installation of officers at the next meeting.

Mrs. C. A. Palmer presided. She revealed that the association plans to buy a three-tier tea table for the school with funds that have been accumulated throughout the year. Mrs. Palmer said that the incoming officers would find that this has been a most successful financial year.

The annual report to the state P.-T. A. at Sacramento was compiled and plans were completed for the installation ceremonies. Those present were Mesdames George Franzen, Vern Estes, Wilbur Woods, Thomas Hight, C. A. Palmer, Kenneth E. King, George Carlson, G. W. Wells, P. C. Farmer, A. E. Sipherd and Iva Reeves Lee.

PLAYS GOOD SAMARITAN

Deputy Sheriff Ives Brown and Harvey Gulick late last night played "Good Samaritan" for Mrs. Josepha Hernandez, who arrived here enroute to visit relatives in Costa Mesa, and found herself penniless. The officers escorted Mrs. Hernandez to Costa Mesa.

THREE ARE NABBED

Three persons were booked at county jail today on drunk driving charges. Kathryn Davis, 43, Anaheim, was arrested by Anaheim police, was Angell Rizzatto, 27, Anaheim, was arrested by Anaheim police and sent to jail for 50 days, and Ray Hollenbeck, 32, 332 North Van Ness, Santa Ana, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff G. ## Court Asked To Open Road in Suit

Asserting that a roadway which he has used for 10 years has been closed to him, W. I. Cain of Three Arch Bay, has filed suit in superior court through Attorney Morris Cain against Carrie Tierney Sinclair and the Bank of America, to obtain legal right-of-way upon the property.

Cain acquired two lots at Three Arch Bay in 1927. An adjacent lot was designated on official maps as a roadway, and was so staked at the time. Cain and other used it as such for nearly a decade, he claims.

In 1934, however, the lot was sold to the Three Arch Investment company, which limited its use. An easement across the lot was given to Mrs. Sinclair, and others received an easement over another portion of the property.

But the entire lot is needed for road purposes, because of the grade at that point, and Cain claims an established right to it for road purposes, through adverse possession for more than five years.

16 HURT IN RIOT AT NILES NURSERY

NILES, Cal., March 13.—(UP)—Rioting broke out between 75 pickets and a detachment of peace officers at the strike-bound California Flower nurseries here today.

Sixteen men, mostly pickets, were reported injured but not seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

Robert Greathead, organizer of Federal Labor Union 20218, said the pickets were demonstrating peacefully against a flower show on the nursery premises when "suddenly they were surrounded by deputy sheriffs and state highway patrol officers in a caravan of automobiles."

"The officers," Greathead said, "set on the pickets with clubs and chased them two miles from the place."

I. M. McDonald, manager of the nurseries, said he had called the sheriff's office when the pickets interfered with the normal flow of patrons into the plant. He denied a flower show was in progress.

FIVE DOOMED FOR ENGINEER'S MURDER

CANANEA, Son., Mexico, March 13.—(UP)—Unofficial but usually reliable sources here said today the death sentence had been decreed for five of 13 men rounded up in connection with the murder and robbery of Tallantyre Sturtevant, 33, American mining man.

While no confirmation was forthcoming immediately from Sonora officials, the reports here were that the five men sentenced to die confessed to ransacking officers at Hermosillo, state capital, they took part in killing Sturtevant as he slept and robbing him of 2500 pesos with which he intended to pay workmen at the Trigo mine, near Yecora, where he was superintendent and paymaster.

Others of the 13 suspects arrested by the rurales in their roundup of an asserted robbery ring which included officials of Yecora and which operated for some time in that district, were given stiff prison sentences, the reports here said.

RAMAGE HURT, BOUT WITH NESTELL OFF

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—The Lee Ramage-Bob Nestell 10-round fight, scheduled for Tuesday here, was called off today when Ramage sustained a knuckle injury to the middle finger of his left hand.

At one time Boston had an ordinance which made it unlawful to bathe in a bathtub.

A Rich Man

There is a man who calls on us frequently, who avoids criticizing others like he does the it.

I asked him if he never found fault with his wife. He answered "When we were first married I tried it, only to discover she always justified herself. When she does something now, of which I do not immediately see the wisdom, I try to put myself in her place, try to see with her eyes and I find that in the majority of instances she is right."

I asked him "Don't you get

MRS. LOVE GIVEN FOOD SOLUTION

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Mrs. Helen Willis Love, 31, convicted of slaying her wealthy broker husband, Harry A. Love, on New Year's eve, today was administered food through her veins to sustain her vitality during a self-inflicted coma in which she seeks suicide.

A solution of glucose and normal saline solution was injected by Dr. Benjamin Blank, county jail physician, who is in charge of attempts to rouse the woman from the stupor in which she is asserting "a will to die" in the fashion of an old Arabic method of suicide.

While Dr. Blank was performing the injection, Mrs. Love rolled on her cot and moaned: "Oh, Harry, don't go away. I love you."

After the injection, Dr. Blank made an unsuccessful attempt to arouse Mrs. Love by the ammonia method. He placed a vial of ammonia under the woman's nose. Although she inhaled the fumes, the only reaction was moisture in the eyes.

PRESIDENT ENJOYS GEORGIA VACATION

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 13.—(UP)—President Roosevelt hung a "do not disturb" sign on his white cottage in the Georgia pines today and did what many persons on vacation do—slept straight through the morning.

The rest of the presidential day called for play that Mr. Roosevelt likes best—a swim in the Warm Springs foundation pool, a visit to his nearby farm and a drive over the rolling Georgia countryside.

First on his schedule was an hour of water games in the 33-degree spring water with youthful patients of the health resort, his daughter-in-law, Betsy, and William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France.

TWO SUSPECTS IN FITTS CASE FREE

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Two men, taken into custody today for questioning in connection with the attempted assassination of District Attorney Buron Fitts last Sunday night, were released later when officers found they could throw no light on the mysterious shooting.

One, whose name was withheld by the district attorney's investigation bureau, had expressed the belief that supposed incendiaries who fired his truck might have been connected with the attack on Fitts.

The second man, Jesus Diaz, 21, of Santa Monica, was freed when he cleared up the mystery of an abandoned black automobile resembling that which carried Fitts' assailants.

Court Notes

Four decrees of divorce were granted in superior court at hearings late yesterday as follows: Sara M. Thiessen against Ralph J. Thiessen; Edith M. Evans against Charles C. Evans; Mabel R. Heard against Roy E. Heard; Grace Green against L. C. Green.

POLICE HUNT PURSE

Mrs. E. Elsner, 414 South Garnsey, today asked local police to help her find a purse she lost or had stolen in Long Beach recently. She said the purse contained a small diamond ring, $2 in cash and identification cards.

"THANKS" TO FINDER OF $3000
TORONTO, Ont. (UP)—James Cameron, assistant manager of a local theater discovered a wallet containing $3,000 in negotiable securities in his theater. Finding the owner, he returned the wallet and contents. His only reward was "Thanks."

TUSTIN WINS PLAYERS FOR TITLE

Armstrong 'Panics' N. Y. Slaving Through Spring Training

47 BASKETBALL TEAMS GATHER FOR TITLE TEST

DENVER, March 12.—(UP)—Forty-seven basketball teams from 22 states, the biggest gathering of amateur basketball talent in history, were assembling today for the 1937 championship battle of the National A. A. U. beginning Sunday.

Today officials were engrossed with the task of selecting eight leading teams for seeded positions in the bracket. Close comparison of records was made.

Teams rated high by semi-official sources included the Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., Missouri Valley A. A. U. champion; Safeway Stores of Denver; Santa Fe Trails of Kansas City; and the Penn Athletic club of Philadelphia.

Collegians hopeful of a favored spot in the bracket were Long Island university of New York, Oklahoma City university, and Warrensburg, Mo. Teachers, winners this week of the Kansas City college tournament.

Convincing proof that the fastest amateur basketball in the world is played in the meet was offered last year when the towering McPherson, Kas., Globe Refiners and Universal Pictures of Hollywood, winner and runner-up, respectively, in the National, placed all but one man on the U. S. Olympic team. In the Olympic playoffs the two teams finished in the reverse order.

A new champion is certain to be crowned this year as the McPherson five has disbanded. The 1936 National champions are scattered about among various teams in this sector. None of the teams with which the "56 champions are playing use the "56 department" style of basketball which carried them to victory. A new style of play thus will move into the top position.

Aviators, Losing Park, May Become 'Road Club'

Formal judgment has been signed by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, conforming to the oral ruling made by the court several months ago when an injunction was granted to E. B. Finley of Westminster, against the county, to prevent use of the county park at Westminster exclusively by the Westminster night ball team.

The court order forbids use of the park for a commercial enterprise, or the charging of admission to baseball games there. Under the judgment, no person can be barred from the grounds, or free use of the park by the public in any way infringed.

The effect of the order, it was explained, is that the supervisors will not be required to tear down the fence around the baseball grounds, but the public shall have free access to the grounds at all times.

The ruling may necessitate Westminster's withdrawal from the National Night Ball league, according to Manager Francis Penhall, who said the decision came as a "shocking surprise." Penhall indicated he would appear before a meeting of league managers and ask for the right to become a traveling team. If this permission is refused Penhall said there was nothing to do but disband as it was too late to acquire other baseball property.

NEGRO SCORES K. O. IN FIRST EASTERN FIGHT

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, March 12.—Los Angeles said he was terrific, stupendous, colossal.

But Los Angeles is always saying that about something, so nobody believed it—until Henry Armstrong, coming out of a crouch, threw a left hook flush against the jaw of Mike Belloise, featherweight champion of the world.

It was a short left hook. Didn't travel more than a foot at the most. But a bomb couldn't have been more effective. Belloise stood paralyzed for a moment and then gave way all over, all at once, and pitched forward on his face in Madison Square Garden's ring.

He was out of his head for half an hour.

Fight Mob Raves
Managers, some of the smartest in the boxing racket, couldn't say enough in praise of the coast Negro in his first Eastern fight.

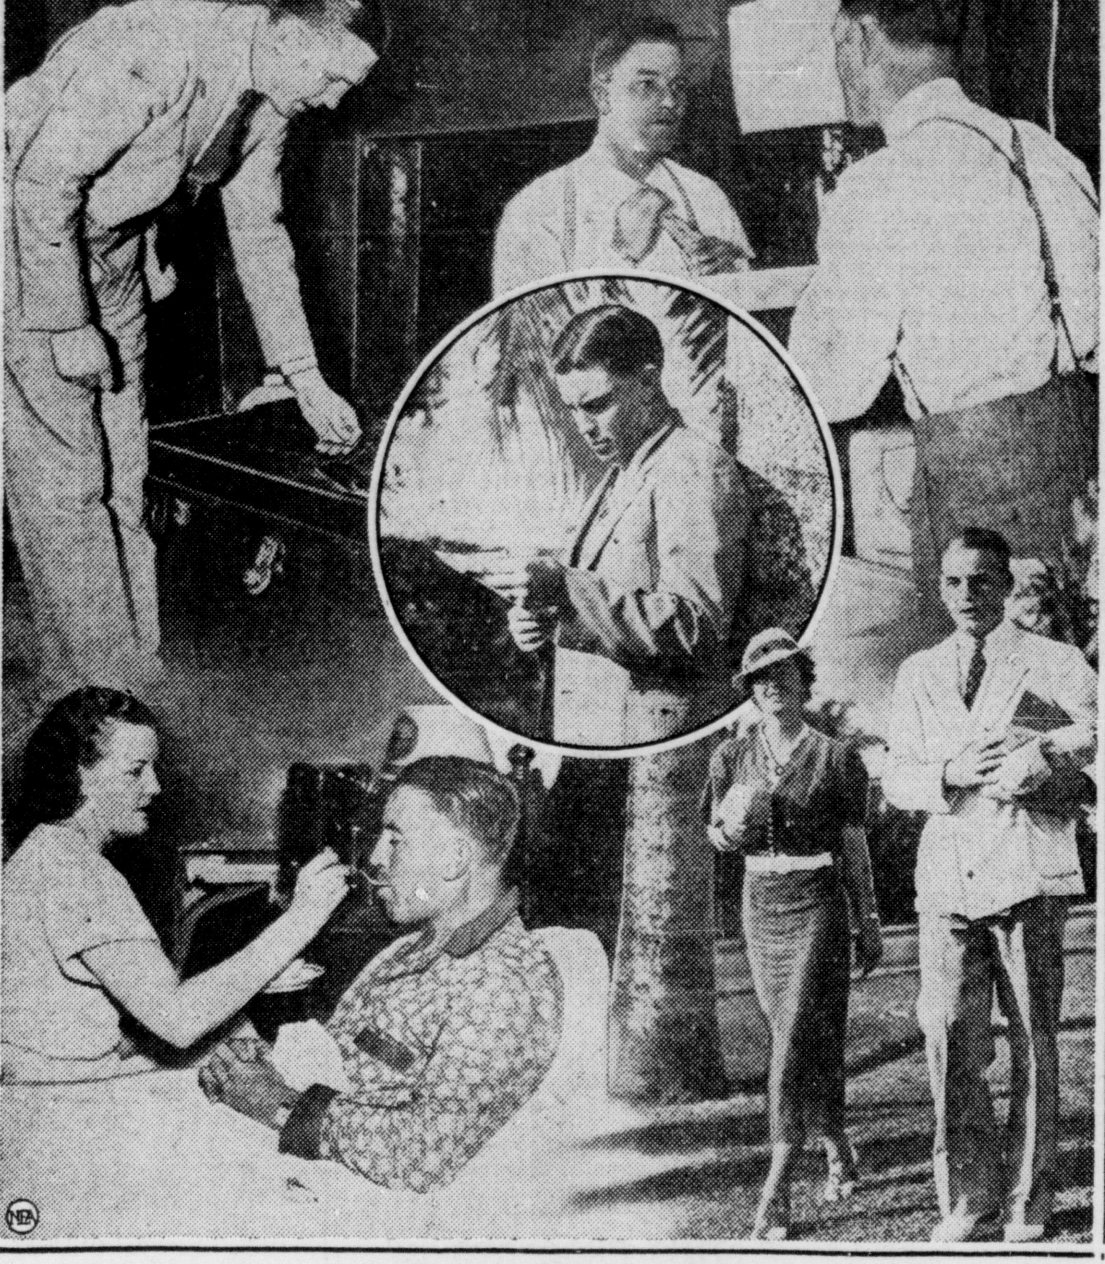

Joe Jacobs, who handles Schmeling, thought he was mother "Terrible Terry" McGovern. So did Jimmy Johnston. Harry Lenny said he was murder—pure murder. Hymie Caplin said Lord, he'd like to have him.

Henry Armstrong is the most relentless fighter this observer has ever seen—big man or little man. From bell to bell he never is more than six inches away from his prey. Always moving in, always punching, he never lets up. Stings him, and he bores in closer. His punches come from anywhere. High and low, hooks and jabs, he rains leather. He feints with everything from his feet to the wild, wavy brush that serves him for hair.

Belloise tried for four rounds to get out of Henry's range, but never succeeded. No matter where he moved, there, smack in front of him, and trying to edge closer, was the Negro. The only time he was free of his tormentor was when Referee Donovan parted them, and then only for a second for Henry broke and shuffled into the attack with almost the same motion.

Bewildering Target
Armstrong offers a bewildering target, because he seems to roll and bob and quiver all over. He makes you think of one of those toy mechanical men who, when wound up, vibrate violently enough to make them move about the floor. He will discourage all save his most determined opponents by his utter refusal to recognize a punch. In the first two rounds Belloise, no mean hitter, nailed him repeatedly with straight rights and uppercuts, but Armstrong paid them no attention. The punishment served only to drive him in the more relentlessly.

New York hasn't seen anything at 128 pounds to compare with him, and when he fights Aldo Spoldi next Friday night he will be paid the best of all fighting tributes—a sellout house.

Hundreds of ball players are now toiling through the annual spring training grind. Here are some of the unfortunate peons of the New York Giants' firm slaving away at Havana, Cuba. Outfielder Joe Moore, upper left, is reaching into the strong-box for money—presumably he plans on Havana good time after hours. Outfielder Mel Ott, upper right, is saying, "Wait for me, Joe," as he straightens his tie. Pitcher Clyde Castelman, inset, has a homesick look, reading a letter from home. Poor Clyde probably misses the whistle of wintry winds. Shortstop Dick Bartell, lower left, has a touch of gripe, but isn't worried with the charming Mrs. Bartell playing nurse. And, lower right, we see Pitcher and Mrs. Hal Schumacher coming back from a shopping tour. The poor slaves.

FARMERS OUST SAN DIEGO IN 34-30 THRILLER

Finalists in the Southern California prep playoffs, Tustin's sensational Farmers and Whittier's Cardinal five clash tonight at 8 o'clock in the championship battle to be held in Whittier college's gymnasium.

On the wave of two spectacular victories—Tustin's 34-30 thriller over San Diego, and Whittier's equally exciting 38-29 decision over Beverly Hills—the two schools moved into the last round at Whittier last night.

Although Whittier has a formidable five, Tustin figures to have an even chance off its showing against San Diego. The Posts reached the finals with victories over Ventura and Beverly Hills after turning back such schools in the Foothill league as Fullerton, Muir Tech, Glendale, South Pasadena and Herbert Hoover of Glendale.

Tustin Noses Out San Diego
Coach Bill Cole's Farmers pulled a terrific upset by their smashing victory over the Hillers. The Orange league champions put on a clever exhibition of floor play and teamwork that had 2000 in the Whittier gymnasium marvelling.

Center Sam Francis started the ball rolling with six successive points in the first couple of minutes. A Hiller tally, and successive scores by Larry Monroy and Paul Francis, preceded by a free throw by Walt Linker, gave the Tillers a 11-2 lead before the San Diegos woke up. Successive San Diego goals brought the tally to 11-8 at the quarter, but two field goals apiece by the Francis brothers gave the Farmers a 19-12 lead at the half.

San Diego retaliated sharply as the third quarter opened. Baskets by Hale, Roberts and Martinez once gave the Coast leaguers a two-point lead at 23-21. Again the Francis's came to Tustin's rescue. Shots by Paul put the Farmers out in front again at 25-23 and they stayed that way until the third quarter ended.

Then San Diego's Hale sank a free throw but Paul Francis matched it with a basket and Sam Francis dropped in another goal to offset one by Martinez, Hiller forward. Next, it was Paul's turn to score; he flipped one in from the side after Roberts had narrowed the Farmers' lead again. A free throw by Sammy Francis and a pair of them by Bourdane, San Diego's sub guard, ended the scoring at 34-30.

Paul Francis Leads Scoring
Paul Francis nosed out his brother by one point in high scoring, the freckled forward caging 18 to Sam's 15. Roberts had 12 points for third high.

Whittier had more difficulty than it bargained for with the rangy Beverly Hills. The Cardinals ran up a 12-7 lead at the quarter, went on to build up a 25-17 margin at the half. The Whittier team, using a pair of guards in the hole, kept the slow Beverly defense behind the eight-ball continually. But the third quarter saw a change in Beverly Hills' strategy. The Los Angeles team found the range and once came within four points of Whittier before losing its spark. Arville Dedmon and the other Whittier forward, Sepulveda, rang up shots from all over the court. Sepulveda had 15 points, Dedmon two less.

MRS. MOODY'S BOOK HAS 152,000 WORDS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—(UP)—Helen Willis Moody, former National women's tennis champion, disclosed today she had finished her book on tennis.

"It's gone to the publishers; it's 152,000 words long—but they can't cut it as much as they want," she said as she arrived from New York where she passed the last four months designing sports dresses.

Garbed in a smart black traveling ensemble and fur piece, Mrs. Moody was met at the station by her husband, Frederick Moody, who took her on her first trip across the new bay bridge.

HANS STEINKE TOPS MAT CARD MONDAY

Fresh from a triumph over "Big Ben" Morgan in three falls, Hans Steinke, German mat giant, returns to the Orange County Athletic club Monday night to face Pete Mehrlinger. In the closing three-fall battle of a double main event.

In the first of the two three-fall matches, Rudy Strongberg, another German grappler, tangles with Able Yurist, Jewish heavyweight, in what fans believe will be the roughest contest seen hereabouts in years.

The Red Devil, masked grappler, meets handsome Myron Cox, San Pedro lifeguard captain and former pupil of Nick Lutz, in the 30-minute, one-fall special while the opening bout brings together "Wild Man" Zim, long haired South American, against the Garden Grove product, Young Stecher.

Eleanor Holm Jarrett, beautiful backstroke star, learned to swim by using waterwings.

LeMon Winner Of First Fight As Pro By K.O.

Fullerton's Lupe LeMon, now known in the ring as Flo, knocked out Lee Robertson in LeMon's first professional bout at Hollywood last night. Robertson, a Salt Lake heavyweight, was bloody and badly bruised before Referee Mushy Callahan called a halt in the fourth round.

WASHINGTON STATE BEATS WASHINGTON
SEATTLE, March 12.—Washington state college's Cougars defeated University of Washington, 36-32, last night to win the right to meet University of Oregon for the Northern division Pacific Coast conference basketball championship.

The W. S. C.-Oregon game will be played at Pullman a week from tonight. Washington State, Washington and Oregon finished the season in a three-way tie. Survivor of the playoff will meet Stanford's southern division winners, for the coast title.

Trailing 23-14 at the half, the Cougars put on a second half scoring spree, held Washington to one field goal and broke the Husky jinx for the second time this season. For several years Washington State teams seemed unable to win on the Washington floor.

Firpo Easiest For Dempsey Claims Kearns

DETROIT, March 12.—Jack Kearns gets mad when critics sneer at his new young heavyweight, Rescoe Toles, and ask, "Who'd he ever lick?"

"That's what they said about Jack Dempsey, too," says Kearns. "They said Carl Morris and Gunboat Smith and Fred Fulton and all the other men he knocked out when he was coming along were bums. Then when he whipped Willard they said Jess never could fight."

"When he bowled over Georges Carpentier, they said the Frenchman was nothing but an over-stuffed middleweight. It wasn't until he knocked out Luis Firpo that Dempsey was given any credit. Firpo was a big, fierce-looking fellow and he captured the fans' imagination. They thought he was a killer. So when Dempsey knocked him out, Jack became the greatest fighter of all time."

"And here's the funny part about it all. Firpo was the biggest bum of them all. He was big and tough, but he didn't know a thing about fighting. I could've licked him."

BASEBALL

By United Press
AVALON—Frank Demaree's hold-out from the Chicago Cubs was at an end today in a $1500 compromise by both sides. Club officials said Owner P. K. Wrigley in Chicago took over negotiations personally with the heavy hitter and signed Demaree to his 1937 contract for $15,000. This was halfway between Demaree's demands and the Cubs' original offer.

Demaree was expected on today's boat. He must pay his own training expenses until the arrival of his play. Rain yesterday cancelled outdoor practice. Batteries warmed up in a gymnasium.

SAN BERNARDINO—The Pittsburgh Pirates' squad is expected to arrive with the remainder of the infield next week. A muddy field yesterday permitted only a light workout so the squad saw the National League Show.

PASADENA—The Chicago White Sox' holdout problems were over today as pitcher Merritt (Sugar) Cain reported signed in Georgia. The Sox were rained out yesterday for the second time in five days of training here and spent the afternoon at golf. Manager Jimmy Dykes will use a pitcher on an inning in tomorrow's game with the 25th Century-Fox Film semi-pros.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees will pitch Sunday, Wicker and Tobin against the Boston Bees in their opening exhibition contest today.

LOS ANGELES—Six teams in the Pacific Coast league, restive after suffering defeat yesterday after an encounter with a common foe, the all-star weather man, scanned overcast skies today and prepared for another day of inactivity.

Pitcher Jupiter Flaming tipped his pitcher and soaked their socks yesterday, forcing them to the benches, to the lockers and then to their rooms.

Teams rained out without relief here were Los Angeles, San Diego, Seattle, Sacramento, San Francisco and the Mission Reds.

MODESTO—Manager Bill Meyer of the Oakland Oaks planned to meet with Willie Ludolph, pitcher, today, in a final attempt to dissuade him from quitting the mound. Meyer was reported as saying that Ludolph would not be able to refuse his offer.

Don-Hollywood Rugby Game to Be Played Tues.

Santa Ana's campaigning Don ruggers will try to catch up with the weather man Tuesday night when they play their postponed game with the Hollywood Athletic club fifteen in the Municipal Bowl. Coach Ernest Butterworth completed arrangements for the game today.

Originally scheduled last night, the game was called off at the request of city officials here because of the danger of destroying the new turf at the Bowl.

The Garden is mad at the New York boxing commission for its refusal to warn Mike Jacobs and the Hearst A. C. that they cannot get away with taking a Braddock-Louis match to Chicago, June 22, while Braddock is signed to tackle Max Schmeling in the Sunken Garden of Queens, June 8.

James A. Farley booted Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney and a $1,895,733 gate to Philadelphia in 1926, but Big Jim had an eye on the Negro vote in championing of Har' Wills and, having listed the Pampered Panther as the foremost challenger, stuck to his guns. At all other times, Farley did everything in his power to keep the bulk of the heak-busting business in Manhattan.

Tea Shops, through a grand closing effort of 118 rose to a total of $19 which mark still stands as the highest three-game total ever recorded in a Congress tournament.

Three of the Pastimers were outstanding as pin-gatherers. James McGowan, former star of the movies, and Jimmy Smith, veteran bowler and two-time all events international champion, will team it on the Brunswick-Red Crown No. 2 team Sunday night.

BOWLING

NEW YORK—There is more action in boxing right now than there will be in June, no matter who fights Jim Braddock.

There is more going on behind the scenes than was revealed when Jack Phillips, Jack Willis, or whatever his name was, ran out of one of those things with Jack Torrance—and talked.

There is more covering up than Bob Pastor did against Joe Louis. The fight between the Garden and the Hearst A. C. has broken out on all fronts.

The Garden is mad at the New York boxing commission for its refusal to warn Mike Jacobs and the Hearst A. C. that they cannot get away with taking a Braddock-Louis match to Chicago, June 22, while Braddock is signed to tackle Max Schmeling in the Sunken Garden of Queens, June 8.

COMMISSION APATHY IN BRADDOCK CASE IRKS GARDEN

NEW YORK—There is more action in boxing right now than there will be in June, no matter who fights Jim Braddock.

There is more going on behind the scenes than was revealed when Jack Phillips, Jack Willis, or whatever his name was, ran out of one of those things with Jack Torrance—and talked.

There is more covering up than Bob Pastor did against Joe Louis. The fight between the Garden and the Hearst A. C. has broken out on all fronts.

BIG 10 MEET TO BE MICHIGAN 'BREEZE'

CHICAGO, March 12.—Don Lash, Indiana's blond distance king, appeared to be the only hope for new records today in the 27th annual Big Ten indoor track meet which threatened to be just like the last time—a breeze for Michigan.

Last year who set a new world record for two miles during his winter campaign in the east, also is a great miler. The slender Hoosier is convinced he can smash both conference marks set in 1935 by Henry Brockmitch, first in a line of Indiana milers.

A balanced team from Michigan, with points assured in every event but the high jump, took the edge off the team race. Neither Indiana nor Ohio State, two strongest contenders, possess the all-around strength to crowd out the Wolverines.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO WOMAN CHURCH LEADER

Final tribute to an active worker in United Presbyterian church, the late Mrs. Lucy Forbes McGee who died March 12 at her home, 418 South Broadway, was paid this afternoon at 3 o'clock at services conducted by the Rev. Alfred E. Kelley, in the Smith and Tutthill chapel.

Men of the family circle were to act as pall bearers in these last rites concluded with burial in Fairhaven cemetery by the side of the husband, the late David C. McGee, who had preceded Mrs. McGee in death by 17 years. Pall bearers included her son, Irwin McGee, her son-in-law, W. H. Warren, two grandsons, David and Wallace McGee, and a nephew, Chester Scott.

Worked For Others
Mrs. McGee's death followed a long illness at the South Broadway home she shared with her sister, Miss Nellie R. Forbes. Mrs. McGee had been a full and active life, and the many sorrows that entered it, were never allowed to interfere with her program of bringing happiness to others. Born January 23, 1854 in Wisconsin, married in her young womanhood to David C. McGee, Mrs. McGee and her family came to California half a century ago.

Santa Ana had been the family home since 1900, and Mrs. McGee had included among her activities, the superintendency of the primary department of the United Presbyterian Sunday school for 25 years. Of the four children of the home, Lucinda died in 1900, and one son, Robert McGee, met a tragic end by drowning at Newport on Labor Day, 1915. He had just completed his Occidental College course, and the following week was to assume his place as head of the Spanish department of Santa Ana high school. His body was never recovered, but memorial rites in United Presbyterian church aroused the sympathy and interest of the entire community.

Survivors Listed
Marjorie McGee became the wife of W. H. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren of this city, and their home is now in Los Angeles as is that of the remaining son, Irwin McGee. Miss Mildred Warren and David and Wallace McGee are surviving grandchildren.

Mrs. McGee was survived also by two nephews, Loren Forbes now in the Philippines, and Chester Scott of this city, and two nieces, Mabel Forbes and Stella Nelson of Bazine, Kans. One nephew, Carleton Scott, a teacher in Compton schools, died of infantile paralysis in 1930.

ATTACK CASE IS SET FOR FRIDAY

Because their attorney was not in court, three sailors from the U.S.S. Chicago, charged with a criminal attack upon Frances Roosevelt, 15-year-old Long Beach girl, did not enter their plea when brought before Superior Judge H. G. Ames late yesterday. Their arraignment was continued to March 19.

Sam J. Leggio, 20, married man, H. J. Reynolds, 23, and J. W. Waller, 23, are the three sailors accused by the girl of attacking her in Santa Ana canyon February 20, when she accompanied them on a motor ride from Long Beach to San Bernardino and return.

Two felony counts were filed against the trio, one charging criminal attack, the other alleging assault by means and force likely to produce great bodily injury.

9 HELD AS U.S. OFFICERS ACT VIEYRA DENIES FATAL SHOOTING

Acting on secret information, border patrol officers of the United States Immigration Service and Constable George Bartley arrested nine Mexicans early this morning and booked them in the county jail on charge of illegal entry into the United States.

The arrests were made in El Modena after several days of investigation. Federal officers taking part in the raid were Border Patrolmen Burnham, Wegand, Floud, Edwards and Williams.

According to Inspector Franklin Davis, in charge of the Santa Ana office of the Immigration Service, six of the Mexicans were taken in custody in the home of Jose Sepulveda. Davis said that federal officials are considering action against Sepulveda for harboring the aliens. The men arrested claimed they entered the United States at various times ranging from one month ago to approximately one year ago. Davis said however, that, investigating officers are of the opinion that all of the men crossed the border near Calexico not more than a month ago.

Tiny Baby Dies In N. Y. Hospital

NEW YORK, March 13.—(UP)—The city's tiniest baby, weighing less than a pound, died today—36 hours after she was born to Mrs. Max Post, wife of a VFW worker, in the swank Park East hospital. The baby was premature by more than two months, but physicians had hoped she would survive. Her breathing, they said, had been better than that of a normal infant.

Mayor F. H. La Guardia directed nurses and doctors to hold uninterrupted vigil over the incubator. He guaranteed all expenses.

Fate sealed the baby in a 320-a-day hospital room. Mrs. Post had set out in a taxicab for the free ward in Bellevue hospital. Her emergency became apparent and the driver hurried to the Park East, which was nearer.

JUSTICE COURT WILLIAMS CASE REPORT BARED

Following a brief discussion of the recent proposal to eliminate all but two justice courts in Orange county—a plan designed to provide a "circuit" arrangement with two well-trained jurists for the small claims courts—the Orange County Bar association last night voted to report its vote on the matter to the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Raymond Thompson, of Fullerton, briefly outlined the matter at a dinner meeting of the association in the Green Cat Cafe and which was presided over by President M. B. Wellington.

Thompson pointed out the farm bureau had originated the movement, and that it appeared the best course to pursue was to inform the bureau that 49 members of the association voted in favor of the consolidation, and nine against.

These figures were presented from a poll made by George Barker, secretary of the association, after cards had been mailed out, and returned.

George Holden, city attorney of Anaheim, Stanley Reinhaus, and others made brief comments on the matter, and Col. Wellington briefly outlined the proposal.

BUILDERS NAME G. W. BASSETT

Meeting last night in special session, directors of the Orange County Builders' Exchange named G. W. Bassett, well known Santa Ana businessman, as secretary-manager of the organization.

Bassett was elected by unanimous vote of the directors who had considered the application of approximately 12 candidates for the post. He will take over his new duties with the Exchange Tuesday.

For some time prior to his selection, Bassett was connected with Graham Brothers, dealers in rock and gravel, having charge of the local office.

Members of the board of directors, in announcing Bassett's appointment said "he was selected after members of the board had considered his enviable record in management of other business organizations in California and in the east."

Bassett's oldest son is in business in Santa Ana, having recently leased the Shell service station at Seventh and Main streets. Two other children are attending school here.

Two Men Scored For Non-Support

Two men, charged with non-support of their children, residents of Santa Ana, were haled into Santa Ana justice court today and ordered by Judge Kenneth Morrison to make payments regularly or go to jail.

A third man, William J. Morgan, San Diego, was being sought today on a bench warrant issued by Judge Morrison. He also is wanted for alleged failure to support his family. The other two men are Jack Nicholson, Palm Springs plumber, who was ordered to make up $34 which he is behind in paying and then to pay $15 monthly, regularly and R. H. Masters, Santa Ana. Nicholson was ordered to pay $50 on April 1, a one-year jail term being suspended upon the condition that he make the payments. Masters, behind $250 in payments, was ordered to pay $50 per month until the amount is made up and then $25 monthly.

Following the talk by Dr. Harris, sisters of St. Joseph served refreshments to the following: Mesdames Mira Greener, Alice Theal, Loretta Kelley, Martha Pelletier, Helena Olson, Mary Edwards, and Ann Lockhart; Misses Lena Neumeier, Lydia Neumeier, Leona Wunderlick, Elmira Norden and Theresa Haugness; Sisters Mary Ange, Julianna and Carmelita and Lee Clark and George McAfee.

LEACH CHECKS SLAYING CLUES TWO IN HOLDUP CASE IN COURT

Detective Sergeant Hunter Leach yesterday visited San Pedro and Los Angeles in an effort to run down facts relative to Basil Duke Coleman's statement that he assisted in the killing of his brother 38 years ago in Edmond, Ky.

Coleman gave himself up at police headquarters, here Thursday night, "confessing" to the murder. He was jailed on charges of vagrancy and suspicion of murder.

Deputy District Attorney Clarence Sprague also is investigating. Leach contacted Coleman's ex-wife at San Pedro and was informed that Coleman had been irrational at times. Coleman claimed he assisted in administering an over-dose of sleeping powder to his brother, Ben, in 1899; he asked that he be sent back to Kentucky to stand trial.

Jennifer resents Daphne's attempts to guide her in her career. First, she dates TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy, in defiance of Daphne. Next, she makes a play for Larry's affections. Thus a struggle develops between the sisters.

Meanwhile Larry proposes marriage to Daphne, but she tells him that she must wait. Her reason is that she feels her first duty is to Jennifer to get her launched on a career. Larry, knowing this, agrees to wait. Then Jennifer loses her job. And the next night she plans to elope with Tucker. But Daphne, learning of her plans, stops the marriage.

Bitterly angry, Jennifer swears Daphne that "You'll be sorry you interfered with my love."

CHAPTER XVI
"The pattern calls for a blue band but I think I'd like it all white." Daphne held up an abbreviated bathing suit she was knitting. "Would you mind it being all white?"

Jennifer didn't look up from her book. "Does it make any difference what I think?"

"I should think it would since I'm making it for you. Or didn't you remember that June 20 is your birthday and June 20 is next week?"

"I'm surprised you didn't make me a pinaflore," her sister retorted in the same cold tone that she had given Daphne these last three months.

Daphne put her knitting away. "Perhaps there is something else you'd prefer?" she proffered.

Jennifer smiled sweetly. "Why don't you forget it, Daphne? Why don't you leave me alone? You've gotten your way now. I've settled down to modeling at Tay-Jarrett."—Tay-Jarrett was a smart 57th street shop—"I go to bed early and watch my diet. I don't go out with any wild people and I don't interfere in your life. Will that be enough?"

"No," Daphne answered, "it will not be. Darling, we can't live this way. For three months you've treated me as though you thoroughly disliked me. Surely you are intelligent enough to know that I would never hurt you, that I want to help you. I think you're taking a ridiculous attitude. After all, think what a mistake it would have been for you to marry Tucker. You couldn't have been very much in love with him to be over it so soon."

JENNIFER threw down her book and walked the length of the

Police Nab Woman As Radio Scores

Police radio scored another victory in Orange county yesterday as Long Beach police, en route to Santa Ana to arrest an alleged woman burglar, sounded the alarm over their car radio and asked sheriff's officers to make the arrest.

The woman was taken from a Los Angeles-bound bus here by Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel and Bob Steinberger and placed in custody of the Long Beach officers.

She is alleged to have been a member of a "gang" of housebreakers, working in Long Beach. A tip from San Diego police led to the woman's arrest; they said she had been visiting her mother in San Diego and had just boarded a bus en route to Los Angeles.

CRAWFORD AND CLARK GABLE AT WALKER'S

Plenty of fun and romantic excitement is in store for the patrons of Walker's theater, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with the coming of "Love on the Run," the smash hit co-starring Joan Crawford and Clark Gable with Franchot Tone featured at the head of a topnotch supporting cast.

The spirited, ultra-modern, comedy melodrama presents Miss Crawford as an American heiress who leaves a pompous nobleman at the altar and runs into Gable as she flees from the church right into trouble. Gable plays the foreign correspondent of a New York newspaper who bumps into the biggest scoop in headline history. Tone is cast as Gable's rival who chases the two lovers in a mad dash over the map of Europe. Also prominent in the cast are Reginald Owen and Mona Barrie as deep-seated villains who head a spy ring. The story moves with the speed of a runaway locomotive from the moment the reporter convinces the distraught heiress that he is a friend, not a reporter, and spirits her away from London to France in a stolen plane. The plane is the property of a fake baron and baroness, really spies, who are planning a stratosphere flight to take plundered war planes out of England. This brings the police into the picture. The reporter's rival puts his finger into a budding romance but "love wins on the run."

The second feature on the double bill starting Sunday, is "The Mighty Treve," featuring the former Laguna Beach high school girl, Barbara Read and Noah Beery Jr. The story, taken from the novel "Treve," by the noted author Albert Payson Terhune, relates the adventure, romance and pitfalls encountered by a young fellow when he sets out to make his way in the world. The movie gains its dramatic force from the simple direct way in which it is presented.

After Noah meets Barbara he discovers that her uncle, a sheep owner, is an eccentric person with a covering fear of dogs. Noah and

'PUBLIC HERO' AND CRACKUP AT STATE SUNDAY

Thrills of the work of the government secret service agents, pitted against organized crime, to whom a misstep or recognition means death, form the background of "Public Hero No. 1," which opens at the State theater, Sunday, for three days, together with "Crackup," a story of daredevil airmen fighting spies in mid-air.

Based on actual cases and reports the new thriller, "Public Hero No. 1," which shows in detail the method of the capture of a notorious public enemy, throws the spotlight on the daring of the nation's peacetime heroes whose work, for their own sake, must be unsung. Chester Morris, who has given the screen many fine performances, plays a pivotal role in the story together with Joseph Calleia, who enacts the crime overlord. The convict stampede and jail break, the raid on the gangster hide-out, and the sensational running to earth of the crime overlord are all packed with thrills.

The story, "Crackup," opens at the christening of a giant plane, designed to pioneer trans-Atlantic travel service. Ralph Morgan, builder of the plane; Brian Donlevy, famous ace who is to fly it; Thomas Beck, his co-pilot, and Peter Lorre, half-mad cripple, mascot of the airport, are present. Morgan, Donlevy and Beck hop off on a secret flight across the Atlantic, with Lorre as a stowaway. Beck, upon learning that Donlevy is in the employ of a foreign power and is carrying a set of stolen plans with him, attacks him, causing the plane to crash in mid-ocean. The final scenes provide a most unusual and thrilling climax to the picture.

Chapter seven of the serial, "The Phantom Rider," will complete the program.

his dog Treve are ordered off the ranch. Then Barbara gets in some fancy diplomacy and Noah remains with his canine pal, who later saves Uncle's life.

The Disney colored cartoon, "Mickey's Elephant," and a newsreel complete the program.

Coming Attractions

FOX BROADWAY

Mingling the sort of intrigue that is making headlines in the newspapers, with romance and humor that also have their place in the news, "Espionage" opens at the Broadway theater next Thursday on a double bill with "The Man Who Found Himself."

With Edmund Lowe and Madge Evans in the leading roles "Espionage" is the glamorous story of two American newspaper workers, both assigned to trace a millionaire munitions manufacturer at a time when his movements are of vital importance to the world. Neither of them aware that the other is a rival reporter from the opposition paper.

Most of the action is planned aboard the Oriental Express out of Paris. There are situations of acute peril and others of rich humor skilfully blended in a story that is cleverly presented.

Paul Lukas, Ketti Gallian, Skeets Gallagher and Michell Lewis head the supporting cast.

In "The Man Who Found Himself," John Bell plays the part of a renegade New York doctor who flees the oath of the Hippocrates, gets a job in a far off country, and eventually finds himself plotting an ambulance plane to a train wreck where the flying nurse he loves is working with his own father, third generation in a proud line of doctors. His oath of service to humanity takes hold of him again and he dons the white robe and gauze mask of his profession to save the lives of the victims.

It's said to be a picture new in story treatment with young Bell handling the leading role in his usual excellent fashion and a new star Jean Fontaine, sister of Olivia de Havilland, making a notable debut.

STATE

Starting Wednesday, for two days, the State theater will present "15 Maiden Lane," with Claire Trevor and Cesar Romero, and "Flying Hostess," featuring William Gargan and Judith Barrett. "15 Maiden Lane" presents Romero as the polished and suave jewel thief and Miss Trevor as an amateur sleuth, in a clash of vivid personalities, set in the world famous jewel center, "Diamond Row," a block of lower Manhattan which is guarded as heavily as the national treasury.

"Flying Hostess," a picture dramatizing that select group of young women to whom a job is not just a way of earning a living but an ideal to which they must hold steadfast even in the face of death. The title role is played by lovely Judith Barrett, formerly of the stage but now rapidly rising to stardom on the Showing for the last times tonight, at Walker's theater, "Great Guy," starring James Cagney and Mae Clarke together with "Night Flight," featuring an all-star cast including Helen Hayes, John Barrymore, Clark Gable, Robert Montgomery, Myrna Loy and Lionel Barrymore, will conclude a three-day engagement with a complete show after 8:45 to accommodate late shoppers.

"Night Flight," a big hit of the past season, is a story of South America, showing the uncertainty of the airman in its pioneer days. "Great Guy," taken from the Saturday Evening Post stories of Johnny Cave, the deputy sealer of weights and measures, who encounters such difficulty obtaining fair treatment for the housewives of the city. The role of Johnny Cave, played by James Cagney, shows a one-man fight against the organized racketeers, controlled by the boss of Jimmie's sweetheart, Mae Clarke.

A gripping romance of a love that was born out of hate, "John Meade's Woman," which closes its local run at the Broadway theater tonight, brings a new and important screen personality to films in the person of Francine LaRimore, a charming and capable actress, favorite of the legitimate stage, who undoubtedly will soar to the highest rung of screen popularity if her present work is any indication of her histrionic ability.

Starred opposite the popular Edward Arnold, who again enacts the role of a self-indulgent industrial leader, and with such skilled and capable players as George Bancroft, Gail Patrick, John Trent and Sidney Blackmer affording support, the newcomer shines with stellar brilliance.

"John Meade's Woman," is the story of a rich industrialist who marries a little farm girl in order to spite his fiancée, who he has found, loves another. After the wedding Arnold tries to buy the

VICTOR McLAGLEN PROVING BIG HIT AT WEST COAST

A powerful drama that rains blows of passions and emotions on your pounding heart, "Nancy Steele Is Missing," the Twentieth Century-Fox production which opened yesterday at the West Coast theatre, is unforgettably portrayed by the star of "The Informer" and an excellent cast.

Victor McLaglen turns in one of the finest performances of his career in this taut, dramatic film, in which he is starred with two of the screen's outstanding character players, Walter Connolly and Peter Lorre. June Lang and Robert Kent are featured in the picture adding a note of romance to the proceedings. "Nancy Steele Is Missing," with its tense thrills of emotion-lashing power, begins in the troubled days of 1917 with the disappearance of the daughter of Connolly, a munitions magnate. Shortly afterward McLaglen, whose knowledge of the horrors of war have led him to hate all who aid in it, is sentenced to a two year term.

He is framed by his prison mates and is given an additional sentence, finally he is seen leaving the prison 20 years after entering.

A cellmate, Peter Lorre, suspects that McLaglen is concealing a valuable secret and when turned loose, trails the unsuspecting convict. In a tense and compelling climax McLaglen restores the missing Nancy Steele to her rightful parent and the manner in which he redeems himself for the crime he committed 20 years before provides a conclusion of tremendous power. As a character of passions, of brutelike violence and childlike trust, McLaglen gives a performance of remarkable vitality and range, one that will rank with the best the screen has ever afforded.

George O'Brien, stalwart hero of outdoor films is seen in the title role of the companion picture on the new program, "Park Avenue Logger." As the son of a wealthy timber baron. It's a thrilling story set against New York City and the rugged background of a gigantic lumber camp. Beatrice Roberts, erstwhile Ziegfeld girl and beautiful artists' model, makes her debut as O'Brien's leading lady, while Bert Hanlon, well known comedian has a prominent role. Others in the supporting cast include Ward Bond, Willard Robertson, Gertrude Short and Robert E. O'Connor.

All in all, this new program is interesting and highly entertaining movie fare. Young and old alike will enjoy it.

girl off and discovers to his amazement that she is really in love with him. She returns to her people, the farmers of the dust bowl region who were impoverished by Arnold's greed. The love she bore him turns to intense hatred. She steps herself in the farm movement and tries to forget. It is only when she saves him from the wrath of the victimized farmers that she learns her love has not been killed.

Besides the gripping romance, there is food for thought in the film, which is particularly timely now. This is the matter of the drought and its causes. The entire cast delivers splendid performances and much credit is due Richard Wallace for his direction.

GREEN LIGHT OPENS SUN. AT BROADWAY

Two of Hollywood's studios combine in offering a diversified program of exceptional screen entertainment beginning Sunday at the Broadway theater when First National's "Green Light" and Paramount's "Murder Goes To College" screen.

Not so long ago "Green Light" stood at the head of the list of best-sellers, now the film taken from the Lloyd C. Douglas story, steps into the ranks of distinctive motion pictures.

Errol Flynn, the handsome Irish romantic who won such a smashing triumph in "Captain Blood" and more recently, "Charge of the Light Brigade" is seen in "Green Light" as a heroic young doctor who sacrifices his promising career in a great city by taking on his own shoulders the blame for an operation bungled by another.

In search of some way to make himself useful to society and prove to the girl that he loves by deeds what he cannot, in honor, prove by words, he goes to an obscure mountain laboratory and searches for a serum that will prevent deadly epidemics. Almost at the sacrifice of his own life, he finds it and returns to fame and love, with his professional name cleared of any and all blame. Flynn rises to even greater dramatic heights than in his other credited hits. Incidentally it is his first role in which he does not wear a uniform. Lovely Anita Louise, who shares the starring honors, is the girl for whose sake Flynn suffers and nearly dies. With her natural charm and genuine dramatic ability, she is perfectly cast. So, too, is dark eyed Margaret Lindsay, in the role of a nurse who has always loved the young doctor. Sir Cedric Hardwicke, who won his knighthood from King George for magnificent work on the stage, lives entirely up to his great reputation. "Green Light" has been produced with great care and lavishness and was directed with the artistic skill always shown by Frank Borzage.

The dean's office of a large university is the scene of the crime in "Murder Goes To College," a sprightly mystery story with Lynne Overman and Roscoe Karns in the principal roles.

The victim is a professor who found a way to control the policy racket by mathematics. Among the suspects are Larry Grabbe, head of the policy mob; Astrid Allwyn, the professor's wife; Marsha Hunt, his sister; Anthony Nace, her fiancée, and several professors who were in the dean's debt.

Overman as a private detective finds the murderer in this group with the aid of Karns, a newspaper man. Both Overman and Karns have been regarded as among the funniest men in pictures but this is their first appearance together. Miss Huber Is Incentive For Party Today

Today brought one of the loveliest of the early spring parties, with Mrs. Donald Plumb (Helen Spangler) and her sister Miss Loretta Spangler, joining as hostesses in compliment to a popular bride-elect, Miss Marcia Huber.

The marriage of Miss Huber and Kenneth Price will be an event of April 3 in Laguna Beach, and announcement of wedding plans was made recently on Miss Huber's return from Stanford University, and she has been feted at various affairs since that time.

This afternoon's hospitality took place in the Tustin home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Plumb, parents of Donald Plumb. The hostesses had arranged a charming setting to which sprays of flowering quince and other bright-hued blooms contributed springtime loveliness.

At the close of a session of bridge and the subsequent awarding of prizes, a shower for Miss Huber took place. She received many gifts in crystal in the tear-drop pattern which she has selected.

Serving a salad course at the close of the affair, Mrs. Plumb and Miss Spangler were assisted by their mother, Mrs. Belle Spangler and by Mrs. H. J. Plumb. Flowery quince in small Japanese bowls served as table centerpieces.

Others in the group were the honoree, Miss Huber and Mesdames Crawford Nalle, Robert Guild, William Jerome Jr., Joseph Irwin, Clarence Ransay, Ernest Stump Jr., Q. L. Hardy and Miss Eleanor Rairdon, this city; Mrs. Manley Natland, Miss Carlene Tuckett, Long Beach; Mrs. Hal Harlow, Ontario; Mrs. Roger Hearne, Alhambra.

In El Segundo
An earlier affair honoring Miss Huber took place Thursday evening in the home of Miss Florence Nelson in El Segundo, where the bride-elect spent Thursday and Friday, returning home last night. The shower came as a surprise feature of an informal party which Miss Nelson gave in honor of her houseguest.

Assembled for dinner in the Nelson home were the hostess and her honoree, together with Miss Gladys Ullman of Los Angeles and Miss Viola Shell of Wilmington. The group was joined later in the evening for a dessert course and other party features by Mrs. Roma Noble, Miss Christine Ketner and Mrs. Alfred Grace of El Segundo and Miss Florence Chambers of Fullerton. Guests showered Miss Huber with miscellaneous gifts.

After completion of her course at U. C. L. A., Miss Huber taught school for a while in El Segundo, resigning her position last year so she could spend several months in Palo Alto, doing graduate work at the university.

Club Speaker Will Discuss
National Forests

National forests will be described and pictured by Phil Smith Tuesday afternoon as a program feature for Woman's club of Santa Ana in Veterans hall. Opening the meeting will be a business interval at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. F. A. Martin presiding.

Mrs. E. D. Froeschle is program chairman for the day. She announced that Mr. Smith will describe various national parks, illustrating his talk with many pictures.

Willard junior high school boys' glee club, directed by Herbert Michel will sing several selections.

Preceding the general session will be an executive board meeting at 1:30 o'clock.

Church Societies

Mary Blair Class
The C. N. church home on New-Park boulevard was meeting place yesterday afternoon for some forty members of the Mary Blair Sunday school class of First Presbyterian church, with Mrs. Archer joined in hostess duties by a group of class members.

Mesdames N. Baxter, C. H. Baird, H. V. Case, C. J. Harwood, Arthur Ellis and B. O. Withall were the assisting hostesses and with Mrs. Archer had planned an enjoyment of games and social enjoyment. The home was prettily garlanded with flowers which gave special charm to the tea hour when the hostesses served refreshments.

Wait A Minute

We just can't keep our minds from clothes, so of course we have to talk about them. But not necessarily from the standpoint of the eternal feminine. In fact we dare you to show us the man that isn't interested in clothes. Did you ever go to a formal evening affair and see the discomfort of the mere male that happened to think that the tweed suit would do? Or sometimes the other side of the question (and THAT discomfort is the biggest of all) when some misguided chap appears in tails and white tie—and all the rest of the men are in flannels. And do you recall peg-top trousers? Yellow shoes? Knife-blade folds down the front of the trousers? Plus fours on every possible occasion? White pique vests?

All of which was called to mind by the emergency facing Eve and John (Cantando) Club Prexy—Auto Financing! McCarty. It seems that Son Jack (Radio Announcer—Ore. U.), sent to the Oregon wilds to broadcast a dance announcement, and hurrying to his car in the dark, tripped over a cable and ruined the pants to his cherished Christmas present suit. He sent a frantic appeal to Mama Eve for a new pair to match the outfit, and she is trying desperately to complete the ensemble. She declares she is going to make certain Jack gets two-pants suits in the future, for she can't endure the thought of his running around pantless.

We saw Alex (Broker) Brownridge, as Scotch as haggis (though we're not exactly certain of what haggis is) and very springlike in gray, even to his hat. . . . Harriet (Mrs. Maurice) Enderle, quite swish in a green kitted ensemble with wide-brimmed hat to match, bewailing one of those days when everything goes wrong. . . . And you should have seen Verna (Mrs. M. Burr) Wellington trying on the tricky red hats of Mona (Mrs. Harvey) Smith and Nancy (Mrs. Emrys) White while waiting for the latest Com. Play to start over at Ebell Aud.

Music had charms to be exerted tomorrow aft. when Santa Any Symphony will appear in concert in the high school aud. and whaddya think? We're to have another fine harpist, Helen Wig of Pasadena Civic orchestra—right on the heels of that remarkable harp program by Alberto Salvi. . . . Music too gladdened the hearts of all who attended the Y. W. membership dinner 'tother night and was provided by our own Girl Reserves. Virginia (Educator) Esterly of Scripps College declared it to be the best G. R. music she ever heard—which is a pretty nice bouquet for Mary (G. R. Sec.) Porter and Clare (Teacher) Spelman to pin to their shoulders. . . . More music—in gay romantic mood—comes this very next Sat'day as ever was when Junior Ebell gals will let us survey new spring styles as it styles and when Christine (Bride-Elect) Lambert will tickle the ivories. Georgia Belle (Violinist) Walton will tease the strings and Nibs (Radio Star) White will warble. . . . But no music quite equals the chime of wedding bells, so recently ringing for Helen Carden Johnson and Robert (Rancher) Hood. . . . Mary Helen Crosier and Evan Jones and so soon to chime for Marcia (Stanford) Huber and Kenneth (Rancher) Price, among many others.

For the matter of that, there's music in train and steamer whistles too, as who knows better than Edna and L. D. Mercereau, now on one of their occasional jaunts to Honolulu. . . . or Florence (Mrs. Harry) Petersmeyer and Son Wrede (Hi Sch. Grad.) who are to have several weeks in Mexico City. . . . or Margaret Ore and Niece Barbara Warner, who have reservations on the Queen Mary for you please, and will go to the Isle of Man. . . . Didja know that Emil (Former Com. Playmate) Foust has produced and directed a new Alden Nash play in his St. Andrews Place studio in Loz On-glaze, with such stars as Charlotte Treadway and Michael Jeffrey? He's doing right well by himself, and are Marna Katherine and Pape Henry Foust just a mite proud! . . . Member Wallace (Bashful) McGee? Well he is lumbering in the metropolis of Glendale and seems to have forgotten Santa Any. . . . We heard our new City Ed. Neal (Register)

Contract Play
Is Sequel To
Luncheon Hour

That exotic quality which japonica sprays with their fragile petals blossoms, always seem to exude, was pronounced yesterday when the flowers were used as the basis for decorations in the Dr. Dexter R. Ball home, 2419 Bonnie Brae, where Mrs. Ball presented the first of a duo of March luncheons.

Each of the small luncheon tables held a low brass bowl with the flowering quince shining like coral against the white linen. Larger brass bowls arranged about the rooms were filled with the lovely flowers, many of which were provided by Mrs. William H. Spurgeon.

Place cards in harmony with the decorative scheme were so arranged that there was a later regrouping of guests for contract play of the afternoon. Seven tables were in play, and as the final rubner was nearing conclusion, Mrs. Ball brought in an ornamental box of fascinating packages, one of which was placed on each table as reward for the player scoring high.

Winners of the trophies were Mrs. M. Burr Wellington, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson, Mrs. Kenneth Sutherland, Mrs. Charles V. Davis, Mrs. C. Mortimer Plum, Mrs. Mark B. Lacy and Mrs. William Thornton White Jr., the latter a bride-newcomer to the city.

They were playing in competition with Mesdames Milo K. Tedstrom, John Backus, Harry G. Huffman, G. Wendell Olson of Fullerton, Ellis Diehl, Arthur Smith, Harold Nelson, Rowland P. Yeagle, Emil Wagner, Arthur May, Lester Carlson, D. K. Hammond, Lloyd A. Chenoweth, Fred Rowland, William H. Spurgeon, Emrys D. White, Emrys D. White Jr., Thomas Glenn, Miss Caroline White and Mrs. Howard Timmons, the latter of whom lent assistance to Mrs. Ball in various hostess duties of the afternoon.

Calvary Church Holds
Fellowship Dinner

More than 300 members and guests of Calvary church of this city attended an annual fellowship dinner held this week in Ebell clubhouse Peacock room. There was a double celebration, since the occasion marked the birthday anniversary of the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren.

Mrs. John Maret was chairman of the dinner committee. Green and white appointments, including shamrocks, decked tables where guests found their places for dinner. Knowing that the Rev. Lindgren much prefers cookies to cake, members of Women's Missionary society of the church had provided an assortment of lovely cookies as a birthday gift for the pastor. Mrs. John Sutherland, president of the society, made presentation of the gift, an elaborately decorated box designed as a cake but filled with homemade cookies.

For evening services following the dinner, 635 guests and members were in attendance. First Mate Bob of the Goodship Grace, and The King's Trumpeters of the Bible Institute, appeared on the program.

Shaw wax enthusiastic about the courtesy last night at the Bar Assoc. meet, of J. B. (Attorney) Tucker because he was such a sublimely gay to a new man on the city editing job. Shaw was so impressed that he declared when Jimmie wanted a first rate murder done sometime, he was the man to do it for him. . . . Lois and Willy (Beauty Shop) Kray can't talk of much but the landscaping operations at their new suburban home twist here and Orange. . . .

Pauline (Red Head) Berry and Lucile (Ditto-Teacher) McDermott have just about the prettiest hair in the city. . . . For distinction in hairdressing, we nominate Eydine (Mrs. Vernon) Brant, whose silvery tresses are amazingly striking with her youth, and who dresses them so advantageously. . . . Kathryn (Mrs. Bill) Cook and Marna Myrtle (Mrs. Gavy) Cravath have full reason to preen themselves when out sauntering at Our Village with Kathryn and Bill's small Virginia, her blonde curls caressing with a blue ribbon. . . . Speaking of small fry, young Nelson Visel is an individualist. Pressed to join the other two-and-three-year-olds at the Nursery School in their rhythmic games and dances, he sat firmly on the floor and announced that he was a sit-down striker. Greatly perturbing Marna Holly (Soprano—Studio Head) and Papa Nelson (Rancher) Visel. . . . Marguerite (Mrs. Minor) Whitford evidently believes in following directions regarding slow and careful driving of a new car. . . . But Anna (Mrs. John) McAuley was in more of a hurry. . . . Herschel (Former Cantando Tenor) Clayton is taking a sojourn in the L. A. Good Samaritan hospital but admits that he isn't fond of the idea. . . . Helen and Minor (Rancher) Warner are a very proud pa and ma. P. S. He's a boy.

Proceeds from the section's benefit party held in the fall will be used in purchasing a tile fountain for the clubhouse patio. It was decided following a report by Mrs. R. C. Harris, chairman of the gift committee. Selection of the fountain will be made by Mrs. Harris and her committee, together with Mrs. C. E. Bressler, chairman of Ebell house and grounds committee.

Mrs. Aubrey Gilnes, leader, appointed Mesdames C. H. Hollis, Ralph Watson and George Peterson on the nominating committee, which will give its report at the April meeting, with election following. The next session will take place Wednesday, April 14 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Nelson Visel, 229 Cypress avenue. Dr. Stella Davis and Mrs. Lynn Crawford will be co-hostesses. Dr. Margaret Baker will be speaker. Mesdames Chester Horton, Har-

Springtime Program Held When
Garden Club Meets

Spring rains and the resulting burst of fresh greenery in gardens, vacant lots and countryside inspired a timely program which 30 members of Garden Club of Santa Ana held yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Mason Yould, 2416 Riverside drive.

Business of the afternoon included election of officers, with Mrs. C. W. Harrison named president; Mrs. Ray Stedman, vice president; Mrs. H. M. Balbridge, secretary-treasurer.

Hostesses yesterday were Mrs. Yould, Mrs. R. C. Berger, Mrs. E. J. Gruettner and Mrs. W. R. Heath. They served luncheon in a setting of vari-colored flowers.

Adding to the enjoyment of the occasion were the gardening costumes which members had donned for the day. Special garden apparel was modeled by Mrs. W. A. Nelles.

Members responded to roll call with information on "The Flowers of Scandinavia." "Annals to be Planted for Summer Cutting" was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. B. J. Durbin. Mrs. E. T. Hayden discussed "Garden Tools."

Plans were made to hold the next meeting April 9 in the new home of Mrs. Lena McMillan on South Birch street.

Flowers in Profusion
Presented Hostess
For Party Use

Because Mrs. O. L. Halsell had such a variety of flowers with which to adorn her home at 2216 North Broadway for yesterday afternoon's meeting of a congenial sewing club, her guests felt like they might have stepped into a spring garden.

There were sprays of flowering quince, like a touch of the Orient; jonquils, velvety pansies, deep purple iris blooms and the demure cutkins of the pussywillow. Many of the flowers were from the gardens of the H. J. Forgy and the F. E. Farnsworth homes. They added special charm to the refreshment hour when Mrs. Halsell served a salad course.

Members present included Mesdames W. B. Williams, L. Dick Wilson, F. W. Wiseman, L. A. West, T. E. Stephenson, E. R. Sprague, Harry Spencer, Joseph Metzger, Helen Hill, H. J. Forgy, Alex Brownridge, O. H. Barr and the hostess, with Mesdames Charles Drufft, F. E. Farnsworth, Charles Nalle and Miss Mary Thompson as guests.

The Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

No matter how hard you work at losing excess fat and getting a slim attractive body, if your face reflects strain and weariness, you haven't got far.

You must not forget that the body is put to extra strain when compelled to draw on its fat reserve, as it does in the course of a reducing diet. Rest more, try and keep your mind as happy as possible, remembering the after all, most troubles are largely imaginary.

Each day takes time out for rest. I don't mean sleep, for many people find it impossible to sleep in daytime, but you can loosen up muscles, make your mind blank, and get up more rested after half an hour, than you would after a night of tossing restless sleep.

Get into loose clothing, have your room comfortably warm and have a pillow that fits your head and neck, and a wool blanket. Lie straight on the bed and start with your legs; feel them go limber all the way down, clear to your toes.

the feet dropping over to each side. Then do the same with both arms, from the shoulder down, feeling the weariness flow out of finger tips. Take neck, shoulders and head last, following the relaxation exercise up shoulders neck and head and out at top of head. It takes longer to write this than it does to do the exercise, but even the writing of it, makes me sleepy. Try it.

As youngsters, we used to call this funny feeling, "going limber".

Three Hostesses Plan
Social Evening For
P.T. A. Board

Although ostensibly last night's gathering in the home of Mrs. Henry C. Vaughn, 3613 Coast boulevard, Newport, was a meeting of P.T. A. board members of McKinley school where Mrs. Vaughn (the former Katherine Blank) is a teacher, there were special party features of much enjoyment.

Miss Mary Andrews, principal of the school, and Mrs. Anthony Stark, also of the teaching staff, joined Mrs. Vaughn in entertaining. They used a springtime theme in flowers and decorative appointments, with touches of Easter cheerily introduced in features of the refreshment hour which preceded the board meeting. Small Easter chickens stood guard over individual nut cups and cake and coffee were served with ice cream roll centered with yellow chocolate design. Mrs. Vaughn had a store of lovely bridal linens, china, crystal and silver to use on the small tables, each of which had its own individual cluster of vivid spring blossoms.

She took special interest in using some of the lovely gifts which the evening's guests had presented her at a shower just before the holiday wedding in which she and Mr. Vaughn exchanged vows in Los Angeles.

The trio of hostesses included with executive board members, one guest, Miss Beryl Hatch of the school faculty. Board members were Mrs. Henry Hildebrand, president of McKinley P.T. A., with Mesdames Albert Garthe, Alfred Knight, Floyd Mitchell, Elmer Christensen, Albert Bradley, Ray Bullock, Roy Kelchner, John State, Paul Webb, Norman Franklin, Sheldon Russell, Cecil Wilson, J. A. Gajski and Dale Elliott.

Stuffed Veal Shoulder: Buy 4

pounds, have the flat bone removed. Stuff with sage dressing; sew up, tie in shape, and brown in hot fat. Allow 3 hours slow baking.

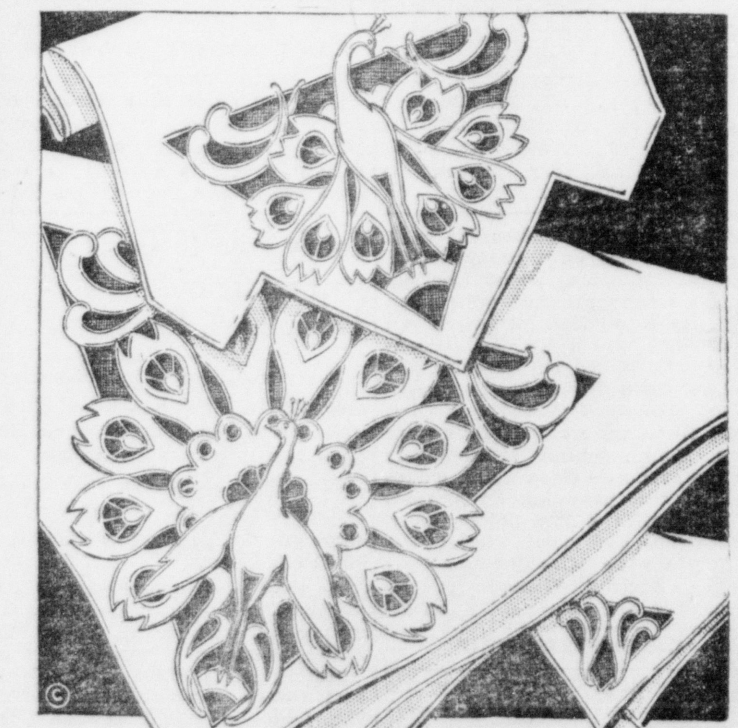

Sweet-Sour Cabbage: Shave a small head of cabbage fine, cover with boiling water, then drain and simmer with a chopped apple until apple is tender. Drain again and cover with 1-2 cup weak vinegar, 1-4 cup sugar, some salt and pepper. Keep hot until served. Au revoir until Monday.

Stamp News

By I. S. KLEIN

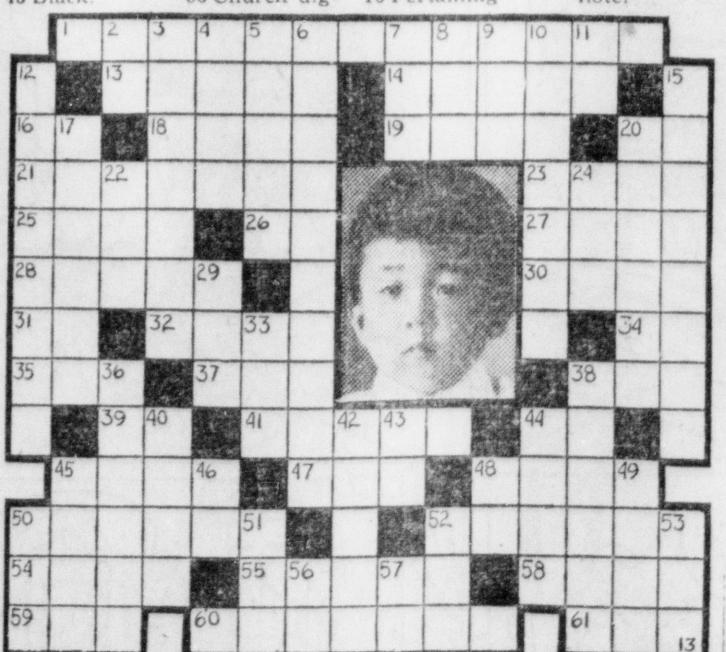

BRITISH dominions and other possessions are planning special stamps for the coronation of King George VI, May 12. Canada announces such a set, to be placed on sale immediately after the coronation and to be available for several weeks thereafter. Before this set appears, however, Canada expects to issue a regular series of George VI stamps. Newfoundland will be included in the colonial issues planned in London, but will add 11 stamps of its own, making a total of 14 values. South Africa plans a series of five pairs of stamps, in English and Afrikaans, making a total of 10. Southwest Africa will issue similar pairs in seven values, or 14 in all. Coronation issues also will come from Southern Rhodesia, Papua, Australia, New Zealand, and other British units. Cover collectors should prepare envelopes for first day issue of the forthcoming 4-cent army and navy stamps. Send self-addressed covers (not more than 10 for each type), with money order covering total of stamps required, to Postmaster, Washington, D. C. Although it may be too late to arrange for covers on the first return flight of the Pan-American clipper ships between the United States and China, envelopes may be prepared for the first flights to Macao and Hongkong, scheduled to leave San Francisco about April 1. Spanish Trend Is Seen In Chapeaux For Easter Wear

By MARIAN YOUNG

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—Whether ultra-conservative, classic felts or dressy models with veils and all manner of fruit and flower trimming, new Easter hats are certain to make you look your prettiest. Even the most extreme creations are cut to be flattering as well as chic, and all are a far cry from the mad modes of winter. It's a season of Bretons (worn pushed back on the head, please), tricornes (because they are so good with suits), toques, pillboxes, sombreros. Rolled brims are highlighted. The Spanish influence is prevalent with Gaucho sombreros, matador toques and little numbers which look like tamborines emphasized in all collections. Talbot stresses extremely flat crowns, sometimes rolling the brim right up over the crown. Also in her collection is "Garden Party," a wisp of a hat, reminiscent of grandmother's day. It is fashioned of leghorn straw with open crown, trimmed with half-open silk and velvet roses and covered by a flowing veil, held in place at the back by a matching rose.

DRIVE CAREFULLY
—SAVE A LIFE—

A WORTHY IDEAL

A MOST IMPORTANT CLAUSE

The President proposes to practically eliminate poverty in the United States, just as Upton Sinclair proposed to eliminate poverty in California—an ideal that we would all like to see accomplished.

If we remember correctly, however, it was Jesus who said, "for the poor ye have with you always."

Those who have never done anything to reduce poverty "NOW" propose that they will eliminate it and prove that Jesus was wrong, when He said, "For the poor ye have with you always." They, of course, claim now that we have machinery and equipment which makes it possible; that this was not true when Jesus made the statement. But, while we have machinery and equipment, our wants have multiplied more rapidly than our ability to satisfy them. We, in reality, have more poor now than when Jesus made the statement, because our wants have increased more rapidly than our ability to satisfy our wants.

When we attempt to arbitrarily eliminate poverty, we are violating a fundamental biological law; namely, that things that are good for life must be pleasant and agreeable so they will be repeated; and must be painful, when they are not good for life, in order to prevent them from being repeated.

Now, the President proposes to reward everyone, whether efficient or not, so they may live comfortably without producing what they can. In order to do this, it is necessary to take from those who have produced what they would like to consume, part of their real wages, and give it to those who do not even try to produce what they can in order to live the way we would like to see them live. This, thus, is violating the first law of life by making it agreeable and pleasant for those who do not even do the best they can to produce what society wants produced and making it unpleasant for the man who does produce what society wants, by taking from him when he produces and giving to those who do not even do the best they can.

How we are going to counterbalance this first law of life has not as yet been explained. We have tried it for many years and the more we try it, the more we get into difficulty and the more unemployment and the lower the standard of living. We have more pronounced examples now than ever before. We have the dole and made work. Those people who are rewarded according to their needs are usually paid more than they produce and refuse to take private jobs because they cannot be paid as much at the private jobs, where they produce something that is wanted, as they are now being paid working at something no one will pay for.

The question before the country is whether we will increase the Supreme Court so that we can continue an attempt to eliminate poverty by artificial wages and made work or whether we will attempt to eliminate monopolies and special privileges and encourage those who are adjusting themselves to society, thereby making us all live better and discouraging those who will not do the very best they can to produce what they need and, thus, adding to the general welfare.

To eliminate poverty, is a splendid ideal and should be the aspiration of every good citizen; but we know of no practical man, no man who has ever increased wages and lowered the cost of living, ever having succeeded EVEN IN REDUCING POVERTY in the way the Administration proposes.

It is a fundamental violation of the first law of life. Human nature is the same today as it was thousands of years ago. We cannot violate this law without paying the penalty.

SAME IDEALS

One of the contributors to the Los Angeles Times Clearing House writes as to what King George III said in 1775 in arguing for a war against colonists in America.

He said: "I have no wish but the prosperity of my own dominions, therefore I must look upon all who would not heartily assist me as bad men as well as bad subjects."

The aspirations of our present Administration are exactly the same as those of King George III—both seem to have the same opinion of their wisdom.

Now that the question of whether we want a constitution or not is so prominent before the people, there are several important things in the Constitution which should be reflected upon.

We believe the first 10 amendments, known as the Bill of Rights, which preserves the right of the individual as opposed to the complete tyranny and sovereignty of the State, is the most important part of the Constitution and a close second to this is probably Article V, which reads:

"The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or on application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of this Constitution when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by Congress."

If the Bill of Rights is the essence of our liberties, then Article V is the sound interpretation of our democracy.

The founders of the Constitution said deliberately and clearly in Article V that all fundamental alterations in our form of government were in the hands of the people.

These men foresaw that without that provision there could be no democracy, for without the power to amend the way would be left open to executive, legislative, and even judicial, usurpations and extra-constitutional laws, and the people would have no redress.

Article V is, then, the most important spot in the Constitution proper.

Amending is sometimes a slow process. That is precisely what the makers of the Constitution intended it to be—slow, long-thought-out and debatable.

When the people of this country relinquish the right to amend, either through inertia or carelessness, then their Bill of Rights will become wastepaper.

SOMETHING NEEDED

N. T. Burgess, of the Burgess Refrigeration company, has invented and applied for a patent on air-conditioning equipment for an automobile.

Saturday, we had the pleasure of seeing an automobile with the installation in use. It is a small compact machine which fits under the hood and throws either heat or cold into the body of the car.

Undoubtedly, there is a great future for air-conditioning of automobiles as people come to use them more and more. The temperature in an automobile is about the only thing left to be desired for pleasant and comfortable transportation. We are close to the desert where an air-conditioned car would be in great demand. It undoubtedly will be only a question of time until these conveniences will be available for even a moderately priced car.

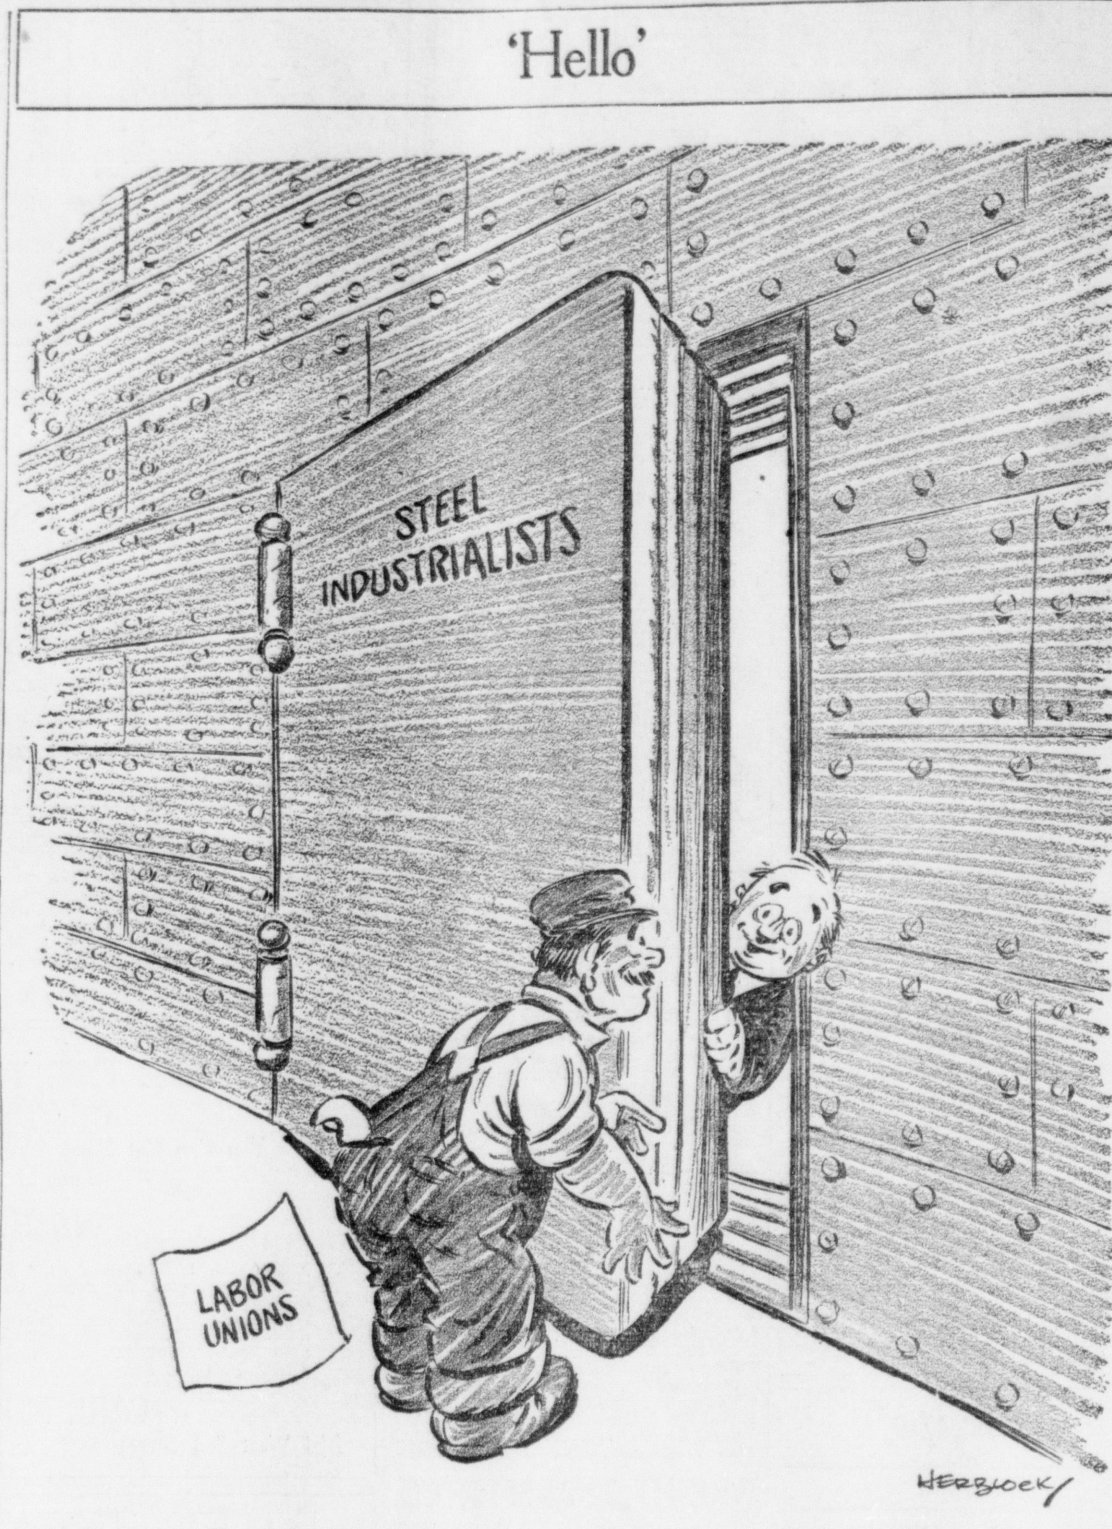

It would be a fine thing if this invention could be manufactured and produced in Orange county.

EXAMPLE OF UNLIMITED NERVE

It seems to us the height of absurdity to have a columnist like Heywood Broun print in his column, as he did in Thursday's issue, that "this is a non-controversial column."

We think controversy is a good thing but untruthful statements are dangerous if they are not recognized. We believe, if there is any column that is controversial, it is the Heywood Broun column.

We are just calling attention to this so the readers may be on their guard and not believe everything Mr. Broun says in his column. He certainly is not sticking to the truth when he makes this kind of a statement. The only explanation we can think of is that the statements are made over the heading "It Seems To Me." This might make it non-controversial but if this is the explanation it is only a trick statement. Or possibly Mr. Broun intends the statement that his column is non-controversial to be humor.

the added amendments. Also, what supreme court decision was ever handed down, ignoring the amendment? Does the man who stood in the democratic convention hall in 1932, and shouted, "the 18th amendment is doomed," think that all other amendments are gone too? Does he think that his oath to Constitution bound him to the preamble only?

He seems much exercised over a so-called crisis in which one third of the nation are poorly housed, ill-clad and ill-fed. How much better if he had thought of that when the AAA was plowing under cotton and wheat, and killing off hogs.

He admits the weakness of his position, when he admits that he fears he could not carry a Constitutional amendment.

Every high-pressure salesman has had the same experience on the second trip back. Most of his prospects had cooled off and returned to normalcy. Maybe the people didn't give a mandate after all.

But if they want a mandate in Washington let sure the people can supply just that.

World war veterans, is the democracy for which fifty thousand of our buddies gave their lives, worth saving? Send a mandate to your congressman.

Loyal Jeffersonian democrats, you who are in accord with the principles of Jefferson, write your congressman.

Townsendites, are you satisfied that the substitute social security act is the fulfillment of your hopes? This act was offered to block your Townsend move, and Mr. Roosevelt wants to pack the court for fear the present court will declare the act unconstitutional, thus opening the way for a new fresh Townsend influence and possible victory for you. It is certain you will not get both. Write your congressman.

Voters everywhere, are you willing to let them place the NRA halter around your neck? Are you ever willing to sign the consumer's code again? Do you believe in a Constitutional form of government, free speech, and press free enterprise, the right to bargain either collectively or individually, and the right to worship as your conscience dictates? Then don't let them put a gag in the mouths of those who have preserved those rights for you. Write your congressman now, or forever hold your peace.

Editor Register:

The editorial page of the Santa Ana Register intrigues our attention. Here we get an insight of the Constitution, the purpose and duties of the Supreme Court and the dangers of increasing the number of judges. If the latter were done by means of an amendment as provided by the Constitution it could be safeguarded by the disapproval of the people. But no, that isn't the president's way of doing things. He prefers to substitute his own method and—for the sole purpose of gaining dictatorial powers.

Much has been said about the 23,000,000 majority and the 16,000,000 minority as though the latter were a nonentity without rights and privileges. What made the landslide on Nov. 3rd? "Don't bite the hand that feeds you," proved a powerful stimulus in forcing large multitudes into the Roosevelt ranks. Whereas our executive administrator merely accomplished this feat by giving to Paul what belonged to Peter.

In last week's Clearing House in an attempt of expostulating conservatism Sharpless Walker tore it into tatters and rags, parading his pen in a blaze of radicalism. Mr. Volmer issued in pungent words and phrases a straight thinking clear cut masterpiece, showing the danger and folly of Roosevelt's rubber stamped Supreme Court.

Paul C. Phillips on the same page cleverly illustrated the disastrous mistakes that might be made by the majority in electing the directing personnel of a firm or nation.

On March 6th Margaret Uitt gave a resume of Roosevelt's address showing the futility of spending and borrowing billions in a mad rush of buying prosperity and providing habitual idlers with a dole and Santa Claus relief work. The result of which is a gradual merging into a nation of parasites.

Congratulations in behalf of the above articles. Let's keep the ball rolling while it is day. There's no time for either laxity or discouragement. Though we be called the copperheads that assail the acts of a great president.

That we be mauling in forgotten graves is of no consequence at all. What counts, is that our souls be piloted into the eternal peace of Christ.

In spite of our different political views, our eagerness in asserting these, we are all branches of the same national tree where peace and good will prevails.

Me and Puds Simkins was almost mad at each other on account of having had a fierce argument pretty near ending in a fight, and we was around in the back street and Puds said, Hay, you think you're so grate, I dare you and double dare you to climb over Mrs. Sower's fence and back again. You haven't got the nerve, you're scared she'd have you arrested, he said.

Aw, you're crazy in the head like a fish, just you watch me and you'll find out how scared I am, I said.

And I quick gave a jump and started to climb over Mrs. Sower's back fence, saying, Hay, it's all wet, what the heck, hay, darn you, why didn't you tell me this fence was just painted?

I didn't tell it wasn't, did I? Puds said.

And he laughed all his mite and leand over pretending he was laughing even harder, being a good chance for me to give him a good stiff boot with my knee some place, wick I did, and then I ran and climbed over my own back fence and went in the side door and ma and pop was eating supper already, proving I was late, and I was looking at myself in the hall mirror and wondering what would happen, and pop called out from the dining room, Well, are you going to join us, or did you just stop in a moment for your mail?

Being sarcastic, and I said, I got some stuff on my stockings.

What do you mean stuff? ma said, and I said, It looks like paint.

Which it did, having a good reason to, and pop called out, Are you sure it's not an anchor? Something seems to be waying you down out there, he said and I said, I seem to have some on my pants, too, and G wizzickers you awt to see my sweater.

Come rite out here without another word, ma said.

Wick I did, and she said, O my lands what a site, such a boy, and pop said, You forgot to mention your hands and face.

Meaning I had paint on them too, the result being I still smell of turpentine.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

MUSIC FOR CHILDREN

It is as natural for children to sing and whistle and make joyful noises in time and tune as it is for them to breathe. The baby in his crib will smile with pleasure when someone sings to him softly, in lulling rhythm. Something deeprooted in the human race responds to music.

In the beginning the music has to be simple, in marked time and in light and lilting rhythm, the rhythm that children love to mark with their hands and feet. Let them do this, and try not to let it bother you. Just know that they are setting this love of rhythm deep in their mind and bodies, from whence it will come again to help them over a hard, uneven road.

Let the songs they learn be real. I have no fault to find with modern songs if they are real, and by that I mean if they have an honest emotion, an actual beauty, a worthy appeal to the emotions that music can stir. I don't object to the repetitive songs that very young children sing. They are learning to use their speech mechanisms, and the practice does no harm. But I deplore the wasted time of the older children when they sing senseless, meaningless noisy songs. They might better be learning their prayers. Such songs are spiritual waste.

There is nothing wrong with old songs that have stood the test of time. I am not ashamed of offering the school children such songs as "The Last Rose of Summer," "The Minstrel Boy," "Old Black Joe," "Home Sweet Home," "Long, Long Ago," "My Love Is Like a Red Red Rose," and the rest of the true and tried. Those old songs were an honest expression of emotion set in the words of the poet who felt them, set to the music of a composer who understood them. I cannot say as much for some of the songs I hear the children singing today.

There isn't enough singing in home and church and school for the children. Somehow it has been crowded out by the important things like tests, speeches, listening to radio programs, vocational work, home work and the like. I would place music, the singing of songs, the playing of a musical instrument, among the important activities of childhood and youth. It is health-giving. It expands the lungs and the spirit at the same time. It makes an outlet for suppressed feelings. There was less petting, less get-in-the-corner business when gathering about the piano and singing in chorus was in style.

School singing, in assembly, has been heading toward the uplift idea too swiftly to carry the children along with it. Before Youth can soar in heavenly flights of sound it must attend to its earthly hummers and slug itself into the mood for soaring. School children need the folk songs, the gay, glad songs of childhood, the love songs that youth adores and needs.

I like to hear children in assembly sing expressively, provided they feel the need of the expression. I have always found that they are in better mood for singing Handel's "Largo" after they have sung themselves free by singing "I Would I Were a Maying," "Hark Hark the Lark," "Row Row Your Boat." I find that there is much more graceful reception waiting for the "Largo" if the assembly has been warmed up on something nearer the children's standard. It doesn't hurt the classics to be introduced by "Yankee Doodle." Their welcome is assured thereby.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

LETTING IT SIMMER

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Behind all the hubbub of confidence reflected in current speech-making and propaganda, many a level-headed associate of President Roosevelt in this supreme court packing fight is getting around to the private opinion that the president will eventually find some other means of attaining his objectives.

The way the most reasonable authorities size up the situation now is this:

The president has presented his argument and proposed his solution. He has gone off vacationing to think it over and let the country debate. No decision by congress is in prospect for months. Best opinion is that debate will drag on into the summer.

If the debate itself does not develop a satisfactory substitute solution, it is still possible that coming events will. For example, the coming Wagner decision may inform the president and congress how to get wage and hour legislation by some new means; or a supreme court justice or two may die; or several may retire at the end of the present session of the court in June.

It is therefore still quite possible that the president will attain his objectives in the end by some means now unpredictable, but short of either packing the court or a constitutional amendment. At least it now seems to be more likely than any of the other existing possibilities.

TACTICS

Any such suggestion is, of course, out of order now amid the noise-making over current proposals, but you may see the situation work around closer toward such a development during the next 30 to 60 days.

The manner in which the president has switched tactics toward a long debate has confirmed other detectable inside evidence indicating that he, himself, has not given up hope for some solution by a less violent method than he has suggested.

Dozens of his friends and spokesmen in congress certainly are clinging to the hope. They make little secret of it among themselves. Their feeling along this line explains why so few have been committed in the house of representatives.

They hope they never will have to commit themselves.

LIMITATIONS

Naturally it will be insisted officially for a while yet that nothing short of the president's plan will do. This front is essential to carrying on the fight.

At the same time, those White House friends who are looking the situation in the eye appreciate that such a sweeping short-cut as court packing cannot be undertaken in the face of heavy outbursts of opposition. A certain amount of popular approval is necessary for the success of any such venture.

In that connection, the president already has lost much ground since his proposal first was made. He could not, for instance, appoint today the same men to the court whom he would have named the day before his proposal was made. Furthermore, the solution he offered is not one to which he is irretrievably wedded. He arrived at it only by the process of elimination, and in frank moments is said to have confessed to callers that it has one big defect. It may not do the job he has set out to do.

Therefore, some who know him best are saying: "Unless this fight becomes so bitterly personal against him that he gets his ditch up, he may permit a more reasonable solution to develop."

ORGANIZER

New maritime commission Chairman Joseph Kennedy came out of a conference at the White House the day after his appointment and said s-bstantially:

"Gosh, I did not read this new law I am to work under until after I was appointed. I hope I am not confirmed."

Nevertheless, he will be. Kennedy is one of the few New Dealers who has gone out of government service with such an improved reputation that the president wanted him back. The new maritime commission law is generally recognized as embodying a tougher job than the securities and exchange commission, which Kennedy established two years ago.

Kennedy took the short two-year term because he has a private understanding with the president that he is merely to organize the commission and then retire. He does not expect to stay the whole two years.

NOTES

The president has been giving a lot of senators and congressmen private lectures about the budget. These are about the same sort of talks he held with them about this time last year. They listened well as usual, but will heed NOT.

Circuit Judge Denman of San Francisco, witness in the court hearings before the judiciary committee, is supposed to have had much to do with the preparation of the supreme court plan. He is an F.D.R. appointee.

The house agriculture committee has postponed the state AAA system to 1942 again. You may recall the assembled farm leaders here wanted 1940, but Agriculture Secretary Wallace is insisting on 1942. It will give him a chance to handle the issue after he is elected president in 1940—if he is—instead of just before the campaign starts.

HERE AND THERE

In the early days of the United States, the electoral college had a free hand in choosing the president and voting was restricted by property and other qualifications.

Argentina ranks second among the countries of the world in exportation of wheat, with Australia third and Russia fourth.

The first book printed in America was the "Escala Espiritual de San Juan Climaco"; no copies are known to be in existence.

Wisconsin has 2400 cheese factories, which produce more than 60 per cent of all the cheese manufactured in the United States.

Postal cards first were introduced into America on June 8, 1873, but penny postcards were not issued until nearly a year later.

REGISTER CLEARING HOUSE

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and are not necessarily the opinion of this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor the Register:

In the president's talk of March 4, he styles the supreme court as one horse of a three horse team. I'm glad one horse knows how to plow cotton without destroying one row in four. I've been a cotton farmer myself and can appreciate such a horse. Of course the other two horses, executive and legislative, are a good pulling pair, if you don't care where you go, but they can't stay put in their Constitutional furrows.

The president and the congress are kind enough to let the question be aired in the court of public opinion before acting on the court question.

Locally the question has had the law firm of Sharpless Walker, Mr. Wooster and Mr. Gowin fighting the administration's case. The sum total of admissible evidence they have brought forward is as follows:

1. Court packing is not something new.

2. Carter Glass voted a few times with those old reactionary republicans.

3. Mr. Hoover, when he was a private citizen, took a naval joyride at the government expense.

4. We who still believe in Constitutional government are a bunch of copperheads.

All the name calling and innuendo has not brought out much of value, judging from the above.

Mr. Sharpless Walker has been described as a "good lawyer" and I'm sure, if that is true, he does not win his cases by innuendo and name-calling. It is one thing to find fault. It is quite another to analyze the decision and pick out the points which are out of harmony with the letter and spirit of the Constitution. This, the people have a right to see so they may form their opinions and write their congressmen accordingly. None of the writers or speakers for the administration's plan have done this. Why haven't they? It is easy to generalize, and hard to specify. Suppose Mr. Sharpless Walker do the specifying for a change. I challenge him to, and leave the result to the people. Take the NRA and find what's wrong with the decision of the court there.

On March 9 the president attempted to explain by quoting from the preamble of the Constitution and emphasizing the clause: "In order to promote general welfare." When prices are pegged so that the seller gains and the consumer pays, is that promoting general welfare, or special privilege? When the farmer plows under a quarter of his cotton, and then gets a lot more for the balance than he would normally for the whole crop, is that promoting general welfare? Some one must pay the piper, and that someone pays without hope of ever getting an adequate return.

Also, perhaps Mr. Sharpless Walker might do well to explain how the preamble of the Constitution takes precedence over
